Political Unit Calls Out For Algerian Vote

U.N.-CONTROLLED ELECTION WOULD DETERMINE FUTURE

United Nations, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. political committee Thursday recommended that the Algerian people be permitted to decide their own future in a referendum organized, controlled and supervised by the United Nations.

The vote on the Asian-African proposal was 47-20 with 28 abstaining.

This was slightly more than the two-thirds majority required for General Assembly approval, but the fate of the resolution was not certain.

In any event the recommendation was expected to be rejected by France. The French delegation boycotted the entire U.N. debate on the ground that Algeria is a French internal problem and therefore outside the jurisdiction of the United Nations.

U.S. Against

The United States was among those voting against the proposal. Assistant Secretary of State Francis O. Wilcox said the United States favors a referendum under neutral supervision, but feels that under present circumstances the Asian-African resolution would only encourage extremists on both sides.

"The road to real progress," Wilcox said, "lies in a renewal of discussions."

The Algerian debate took place against a background of violence and death in Algeria where President Charles de Gaulle had sought to explain his latest peace plan in a personal visit.

In other action, India and Yugoslavia were preparing a resolution aimed at placing all Congolese military forces under command of the United Nations.

Diplomatic sources said the new proposal would be submitted to the U.N. General Assembly before it convenes Friday morning for debate on the Congo.

Other main points of the resolution called for immediate steps to reconvene the Congolese parliament, and for release of all political prisoners. This would include deposed Congo Premier Patrice Lumumba, being held for trial by the Congo army of Col. Joseph Mobutu, the Congo strongman.

Thursday the General Assembly's budget committee challenged the Soviet Union's adamant stand against paying any part of the costs for the U.N. Congo operation. This year's bill is estimated at $60 million.

Special Account

In what amounted to a curtain raiser for Friday's full-scale Assembly session on all aspects of the Congo, the 99-nation committee voted 45-15 with 25 abstentions for a resolution to establish a special account to cover the 1960 U.N. Congo costs.

It contains a clause spelling out that all U.N. members are obligated legally to pay their assessed share.

It will take a two-thirds majority in the Assembly to win approval. Fourteen nations were absent in the committee vote, and thus the Assembly outcome was not assured.

The United States voted for the resolution, although it had insisted previously that the 1960 Congo costs be made a part of the regular U.N. budget subject to assessments.

Goldberg Is Chosen Secretary Of Labor

6th And 7th Cabinet Selections Announced

Washington (AP)—President-elect John F. Kennedy Thursday night chose Minnesota's Gov. Orville Freeman to be his secretary of agriculture. Kennedy also picked AFL-CIO lawyer Arthur J. Goldberg, an apostle of labor-management peace, as his secretary of labor.

Freeman and Goldberg—both Democrats—were the sixth and seventh Cabinet selections made by the president-elect and left him with 3 spots yet to fill—secretary of the Treasury, attorney general and postmaster general.

Earlier in the day, Kennedy disclosed that 74-year-old Rep. William L. Dawson of Illinois had declined appointment as postmaster general, passing up the chance to be the first Negro Cabinet member in the nation's history.

Maybe 3 Friday

Kennedy said Thursday night he would have at least one more Cabinet appointment to announce Friday, and maybe all 3 of those still to be made.

Kennedy made the Freeman announcement in the glare of newsreel floodlights from the doorstep of his Georgetown home. The 42-year-old Freeman was at his side.

The youthful Freeman, a year younger than Kennedy, was defeated in November in his bid for re-election as governor of Minnesota.

It was Freeman who nominated Kennedy for the presidency at the Democratic National Convention in Los Angeles last July.

Freeman, a Lutheran, is a lawyer by profession. A major in the Marines during World War II, he won the Purple Heart, awarded for wounds in action.

Loses Second Term Bid

Becoming governor of Minnesota in 1955, Freeman lost his bid for another term on Nov. 8 while Minnesota was going for Kennedy by a narrow margin.

A few minutes after announcing appointment of Freeman, the President-elect said he was naming Rep. George McGovern, D-S.D., as director of the new administration's food for peace program.

That is a plan for distribution of commodities abroad with a view to promoting international good will and at the same time relieving huge domestic surpluses.

Defeated By Mundt

The 38-year-old McGovern, a two-term House member, tried for the Senate this year, but was defeated by Republican Sen. Karl Mundt.

Freeman said of his appointment:

"I regard this task ahead as a real challenge and a great opportunity. The problems in agriculture are difficult and complicated. No one knows all the answers, but the answers can, must and will be found.

"If the United States is to meet its responsibilities to its own peoples and as a leader of the free world, it must (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5.)

ETHIOPIA REMAINS TENSE:

'Inhuman Massacre' Rocks Addis Ababa

London (AP) — The Ethiopian radio reported Thursday night an "inhuman massacre" in Addis Ababa, where Crown Prince Asfa Wassan has been proclaimed king replacing his father, deposed Emperor Haile Selassie. Several civilians were reported killed and many wounded.

Asfa Wassan

The broadcast said "a group of bandits . . . opened fire on peaceful citizens demonstrating for the new representative people's government." It reported later that "the two fighting parties have settled their dispute" and agreed to work with the new regime.

But the Ethiopian Embassy in Paris, still loyal to the bearded 68-year-old "king of kings," said the fighting was between partisans of father and son. Claiming rising support for Selassie, the embassy said fighting also had broken out in Asmara, a city of 90,000 between Addis Ababa and the Red Sea.

The role of the military in the kingdom of northeast Africa was in doubt. But at least part of the army in the capital was known to be loyal to the new regime. Officials in London were told army units were guarding British, U.S., and French embassies in Addis Ababa.

(The U.S. Embassy in Addis Ababa reported to Washington that none of the 1,800 Americans there had been injured.)

The Ethiopian radio declared those who attacked the demonstrators were "under the influence of two traitors."

These were named as Gen. Kabeda Gabre, former commander in chief of the Ethiopian army, and Merid Mengesha, who was Selassie's minister of state under the defense ministry. A spokesman at the Ethiopian Embassy in London said the two "seem to be supporters of the emperor."

While the fighting raged, Selassie headed home from Brazil for a showdown, cutting short a visit abroad. Apparently bent on keeping him from landing, the Ethiopian regime barred all flights in and out of the kingdom. But a Swedish charter plane with 54 Swedes aboard was allowed to land at Addis Ababa, a Cairo report said.

Gen. Abiye Abebe, the emperor's representative in Eritrea, on the Red Sea, cabled the Ethiopian Embassy in London insisting that the army, air force and the country at large were loyal to the emperor. Abebe said the crown prince was "under pressure from certain elements of the imperial bodyguard and police." The implication was that these forces, not the army, were behind Wednesday's coup.

The Ethiopian radio announced that Ras Imeru, 68, former ambassador to the United States, the Soviet Union and India, is the new premier under Wassan.

Road Building To Hit Record

Apparent low bidders on an estimated $7.5 million in Nebraska highway construction projects will be announced Friday. The total should give the state a record for road-building. See story on Page 24.

More Aid Sought For Handicapped

School administrators, the American Legion and the Nebraska Society for Crippled Children have expressed support for a bill increasing aid for handicapped children. See story on page 5.

Tot Seriously Hurt; Babysitter Is Held

By Len Colson

A two-year-old Lincoln boy was still unconscious and in serious condition early Friday from injuries which police say may have been inflicted during a beating.

The tot, Douglas Miner, son of Mrs. Vernelle Miner of 4326 Baldwin, may have suffered a fractured skull, a hospital official told police. X-rays had not been taken early Friday morning.

Police are holding a 50-year-old Lincoln man, the tot's babysitter, on an open charge pending investigation into the injuries.

According to the jailed man, the boy rushed unconscious to a local hospital Thursday afternoon after he fell down a flight of stairs at his home.

Police were alerted by a hospital official who told them that the extensive injuries "could not possibly have been caused by a fall."

Capt. Robert Sawdon said the boy suffered bruises and abrasions about the head and body and bruises on the throat "indicating the child may have been choked."

He said the injuries were of a type that "only could have been inflicted."

The jailed man was questioned Thursday night but denied beating the child, Sawdon said.

Mrs. Miner was working and her 4 other children were in school when the incident took place, police said.

COLD TEMPS TO CONTINUE

C-c-c-cold temperatures are expected to remain in Nebraska Friday and weathermen are calling for continuing northerly winds reaching 20-25 m.p.h in the east.

Temperatures are not expected to climb out of the 30s Friday. Clouds and colder temperatures are expected to hit the panhandle by Friday afternoon.

Lincoln claimed the state high temperatures of 35 Thursafter an overnight low of 31.

Boy, 7, Injured; Condition Is Fair

Terry Scott, 7, of 1700 Folsom, is in fair condition at a local hospital after he was involved in a car-pedestrian accident at West A and Folsom Thursday, a highway patrolman reported.

Driver of the car was Larry B. Martin, 17, of 1040 West A, the officer said.

Antelope Recreation Facilities Outlined

Canoeing, boating, fishing and general park activities were among facilities envisioned for the Antelope Creek Dam recreational area at a meeting Thursday. See story on page 40.

OLD FASHIONED CHRISTMAS

BY PAUL ENGLE

(Editor's Note: Here is the fifth instalment of the nostalgic story of the "Old Fashioned Christmas" by Paul Engle, noted writer, lecturer and teacher.)

Green was the color of life in a dead season, and so the forest tree was brought into the house.

But fire was also the color of life, so on that tree we put the many-colored wax candles, carefully placing them so they would not burn a branch above.

Today, we put strings of electric lights around the tree and by a switch turn them all on at once. But the candles were lit just as they had been put there, one at a time, beginning at the top and working down. Tiny flame by flickering flame they burned, so that gradually the entire tree bloomed with fire. Our hand had done this, with a lighted taper.

The candles had other advantages. They gave off a thin odor of melting wax, and sometimes the pungent smell of scorched pine needles as one candle came too close to the branch over it.

Shimmered and Flared

Not only did our trees have a unique odor, they also had a lovely motion. As drafts blew across our badly heated parlor, the flames would leap and drift and bend down or make sudden thrusts upward, so that the whole tree shimmered and flared in its wonderful glow of green and fire.

There was always this miniature sense of danger about lighting the tree, but it was a natural part of the risks we ran getting ready. My mother always sewed so much, and toward the end so fast, that her fingers would have tiny tears from the needle, which now and then would let fall a drop of blood to mingle with the fabric she was working.

I too would have a smashed finger from hitting it with the hammer while cracking nuts, or my brother would bring home a gashed hand from the saw he had been using while making a (Continued on Page 8.)

THE STAR AT TREE TOP . . . it "always had a delectable reek of mingled tobacco and chocolate."

S-W Directors Prepare To Take Over Sanitary District

. . . DENTON, EMERALD DAM SITES APPROVED

By Don Walton

The Salt-Wahoo Watershed District board of directors Thursday reaffirmed its willingness and intent to assume all the assets and liabilities of the Sanitary District.

The board also adopted a motion recommending that legislation be drafted to accomplish dissolution of the Sanitary District in the most simple manner.

Robert B. Crosby, general counsel for the district, was instructed to prepare any necessary legislation.

The board also approved the proposed locations for Dams 11 and 12, the latter subject to a further investigation of the sites next week.

Dam 11 will be located one mile west and 1½ miles south of Denton.

Dam 12 is to be located 3 miles south and one-half mile west of Emerald.

The two reservoirs hold fourth and fifth priorities in the proposed 12-dam Salt-Wahoo project.

Recommend Recreation

In approving their location, the board of directors recommended that plans of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers permit recreational development by the State Game Commission.

Approval was also subject to the holding of landowners meetings similar to the Antelope Creek Dam meet held Thursday.

The Dam 12 investigation will be initiated next Wednesday by a 3-man committee, whose chairman is Harold Sieck of Pleasant Dale.

Other members are Kenneth Weaver of Raymond, and Hal Bauer of Lincoln.

The speed with which construction of the two dams will begin is dependent upon budget recommendations of President-elect Kennedy and appropriations from the incoming Congress.

Planting Favored

In other action, the Salt-Wahoo board adopted a motion generally favoring the proposed tree-planting project along Salt Creek.

The resolution suggested that planting be deferred until the Corps of Engineers has completed its construction plans, possibly 4 months hence.

The project had been proposed by George Knight, member of the Sanitary District.

The board also accepted the resignation of Ezra Neben of Murdock as director due to ill health.

Red Forces' Guns Set U.S. Embassy In Laos Ablaze

Americans Flee Capital

Bangkok, Thailand (Friday) (AP)—Big guns of retreating Red forces set ablaze the U.S. Embassy and other buildings Thursday in Vientiane. Americans and many others fled the fought-over capital of Laos.

Non-communists seemed to have gained the upper hand by early Friday.

Communists appeared to have fired aimlessly from the edges of the city in hit-or-miss efforts to destroy it as they left.

Radio reports from U.S. Embassy employes in Vientiane Friday morning described the capital as quiet. The fires set by shelling of retreating pro-communists had died down.

Badly Damaged

The U.S. Embassy was among more than 10 buildings badly damaged by fire after being hit by shells.

Four Americans have suffered minor injuries in the 3 days of fighting for the city between rightist forces led by Gen. Phoumi Nosavan and pro-communist Pathet Lao Guerrilla forces supporting leftist paratrooper Capt. Kong Le.

Associated Press Correspondent Roy Essoyan in a dispatch from Vientiane said anti-communist forces held the center of the city Thursday night and the aimlessness of the shelling suggested Kong Le may make good his threat to level Vientiane before giving it up.

The U.S. Embassy was hit by 3 mortar shells before flames from an adjacent building set its roof afire.

The opening up of shell fire prompted the mass evacuation.

20 Staying On

An Embassy official said 20 key personnel have been left in Vientiane, but 180 persons for whom the Embassy is responsible had been ordered out.

"The evacuation should not be interpreted as meaning that all is lost in Vientiane," the official said. "The physical condition is such that there is no point in keeping all the American personnel there."

Reports reaching Bangkok said intense artillery fire slammed shells into the Laotian premier's palace, a French hospital and downtown government and public buildings.

(In Paris, U.S. Secretary of State Christian Herter was reported to have said the United States will give full backing to the rightists. He reportedly urged Britain and France to recognize the rightist regime.

Omaha Boy, 13, Is Accidentally Hanged With Ties

Omaha (AP) — A 13-year old Omaha boy was found hanged to death with two silk neckties in the basement of his home Thursday night.

The boy was Richard Jiangrosso, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Jiangrosso.

He was found by his sisters, Pamala, 12, and Rose Mary 14.

They had returned to the house searching for him when he failed to appear at a school function the family was attending.

The boy was reported to have asked Pamala earlier in the evening to help him with after he had suspended himself with the ties by an ankle from a fixture. At that time Pamala asked him to promise to put the ties away.

Detective Sgt. John Regner said "He must have been curious about the feel of a noose." Acting Coroner George Sullivan ruled the death accidental.

Rosie's Baby Is The Big News At Pioneers

By Nancy Ray

Big news at Pioneers Park this week is Rosie's baby. About 14 pounds of brown, furry long-legged guanaco.

Rosie's baby arrived sometime early this week, without an assist from the Park Department, but officials feel that they may have to step in now because Charley, the baby's father, is jealous of the newcomer.

The youngster will be taken to Antelope Park zoo, where he will be bottle-fed and raised by park department employes, in order to keep him away from his bullying father.

The new guanaco is not the first one born in captivity at Pioneers Park. His mother is also a Lincoln native.

James Ager, parks superintendent, has an eye on the newcomer as a logical addition to the proposed Children's Zoo animal compound. The compound will be constructed so that children can go in and play with and feed the animals.

Raising the new guanaco in captivity will give the park department a chance to accustom the animal to close contact with people, making him a much better subject for the compound.

When the baby is taken to Antelope Zoo depends on a long distance call to the San Diego Zoo.

Nebraska Ag Leaders Endorse Appointment

By Glenn Kreuscher
Farm Editor

The appointment of Governor Orville Freeman of Minnesota as Secretary of Agriculture by President-elect John F. Kennedy was endorsed with approval from midwestern agricultural leaders.

Nebraska's Director of Agriculture, Pearle Finigan, who has worked with Governor Freeman on farm problems, said, "I think Freeman is one of the real outstanding men in agriculture.

Finigan described the next Secretary of Agriculture as "a man who has a tremendous interest in the welfare of agriculture and who has shown a desire to do something for the farmer."

Freeman has been active in urging Congress, the President and midwestern governors to take action on agricultural problems, Finigan reminded.

The Minnesota Governor represents an area that has suffered as much as any from the cost-price-squeeze to agriculture and he understands the farmer's problems from the farm level, said Finigan.

Finigan added, "The requirement that our Secretary of Agriculture be a midwesterner and one interested in the farmer is definitely fulfilled."

Cole Comments

Ralph Cole of Holdrege, secretary of the U.S. Farm Policy Council and an aide to Governor Frank Morrison in arranging the recent Breadbasket Conference, had this comment to make regarding Freeman as Kennedy's selection to head the Department of Agriculture:

"Our knowledge of Governor Freeman indicates that he is sympathetic to agriculture, the number one requirement to fill the job.

"He is from the midwest and understands agriculture's problems. He is a man we can work with."

Bruns Approves

Carl Bruns of Chappell, national president of the Wheat Growers Assn., termed Freeman an excellent choice for the position as Secretary of Agriculture.

"Freeman is particularly suited to speak plainly for agriculture and he has the knowledge of the industry to explain to consumers the farmers position."

Dr. Howard Ottoson, chairman of agricultural economics, College of Agriculture, who graduated from the University of Minnesota with Freeman said, "I think he will make an excellent choice for Secretary of Agriculture.

"Freeman listens to advice, seeks advice, is intelligent, energetic and likes to be completely informed on all matters.

Early Leader

Ottoson in recalling his college days said, "Yes, I remember Orville Freeman. He was president of our student council when we graduated."

Governor Freeman was responsible for cooperating with the late Gov. Ralph Brooks of Nebraska in calling the midwest governor's conference on farm problems last winter.

meet the challenge of potential plenty in agriculture commodities, products that meet basic human needs.

"As long as two-thirds of the people of the world are hungry, the problem of our agricultural surplus is a world problem as well as a problem of the farm states of the Midwest.

Sees A Market At Home

"As long as millions of Americans lack adequate standards of nutrition in their diet the problem of stored foodstuffs is more than one of storage costs to taxpayers and price supports to farmers, it is an integral part of our effort to improve consumption and distribution.

"As long as competent and efficient farmers, utilizing the scientific advances that have enormously increased our agricultural productivity, are unable to earn a fair return for their capital and labor we can have no sound and permanent health in our economy.

"We must have a positive and constructive approach to problems of agriculture."

Freeman set forth as goals:

1. Programs to insure enough food and fiber for all Americans.

2. Programs that will assure the efficient American family farm the opportunity to achieve parity of income, without exploiting either consumers or taxpayers.

3. "Programs to utilize our agricultural abundance to meet human needs here and abroad, as an instrument to encourage economic growth in underdeveloped areas of the world, and as one of our greatest weapons for peace — a weapon in which our superiority is unquestioned."

Tied In With Others

To reach those goals, he said, "we must consider the agricultural program in connection with those involving world trade, without attack on technological unemployment, with our over-all search for economic growth, with effective conservation of soil and water resources, and with our aim for a balanced budget."

"I believe it is only by this approach that we can arrive at a sound and workable solution," Freeman said.

"And I also believe that by using this broader approach courageously and effectively we can gain wide support from the American public, farmer and non-farmer alike, for these goals."

Couple Fined After Police Probe Pay Check Problem

By Del Harding

A 32-year-old Lincoln man has found out it just doesn't pay to trust a woman—especially with your pay check.

Police said the man told them this story:

An 18-year-old girl who was a waitress in an establishment frequented by the man came to the man's place of business Wednesday and asked if she could borrow $5 from him. He told her he would lend her the money but only had his $123 pay check with him.

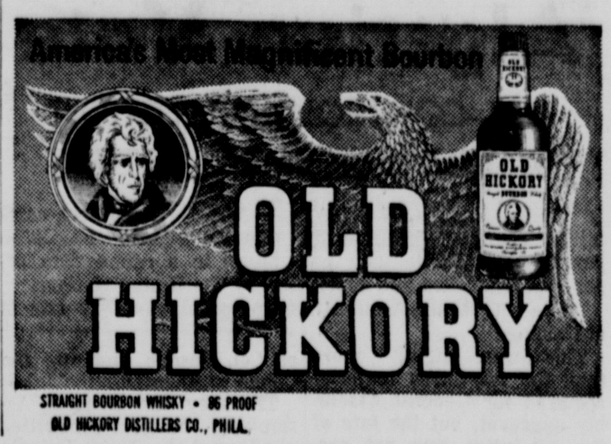

She offered to cash the check for him, so he endorsed its and she left for the bank.

When the girl failed to return with his $118 "change" he telephoned police.

They traced the girl to local hotel and found that she and her 19-year-old boy friend had checked out about an hour before. Police found the girl had taken a cab to the bus depot and theorized she and her boy friend had taken a bus for Omaha.

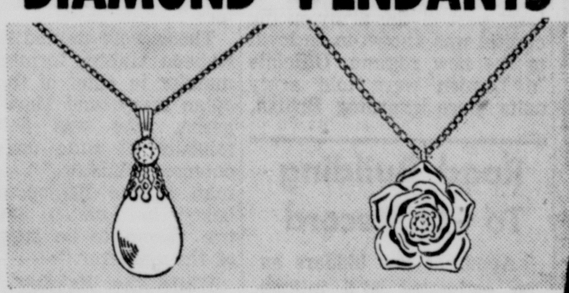

A call to the Omaha Police Dept. resulted in the teen-age couple being arrested as they got off the bus and they were returned to Lincoln.

The young couple, who gave their names as Gracemary Carter and David S. Crandall, were fined $35 each in Municipal Court Thursday on charges of disorderly conduct arising from their living together as man and wife. Miss Carter also was fined $25 in County Court on a petit larceny charge filed in connection with the theft of the check.

85% Missouri Used Equitably—Smith

Controversy Resumed At Basin Meeting

Sioux City (UPI) — Upstream contentions that downstream navigation interests were receiving favored treatment in the operation of Missouri River reservoirs were met with firm resistence Thursday.

James R. Smith, Omaha, representing the Missouri River branch of the Mississippi Valley Assn., said 85% of the water in the Missouri River is used equitably by both the upper and lower basin states.

"The lower states," Smith said, "will not tolerate the upper states devouring the whole benefits. The project was never conceived as a power project alone and we will not let them turn it into one 16 years later."

Hits Navigation

Smith's statements at the Missouri Basin Inter-Agency Committee (MBIAC) meeting here countered claims by South Dakota water engineer Joseph W. Grimes who said the river operation is "pledged to equitable benefits for all parties concerned, but the navigation industry has been running off with all the lean."

The controversy was a resumption of the long-standing argument between the two sections of the rich river basin. The upper basin areas complain they have contributed land for the reservoirs only to have water released to maintain a navigable channel instead of being stored to increase the power production capacity.

Grimes charged that the reservoir operations as outlined in reports from the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers and the Bureau of Reclamation distorted the criteria necessary to determine equitable water use.

He said the picture presented by the annual operating schedules fosters misunderstanding and controversy.

Cites Power Progress

Harold Arthur, assistant regional director of the bureau of reclamation, reported that progress in power production in the eastern division has been remarkable. Sales increased by nearly one million dollars during the past 3 years, he said.

The Missouri Basin states committee passed a resolution urging an acceleration of bank stabilization work designed to provide a 9-foot navigation channel from St. Louis to Sioux City.

Hey Kids--Circus Is Back In Town

By Gene Budig

Only at this stop, young tent pitchers are out of luck.

Icy winds and swirling snow forced the C. W. Shane Circus to desert the traditional canvas top for a nice, warm basement.

Circus in a basement?

Yep. There in the dark confines of Charles Shane's Wahoo home, dazzling circus wagons bring the Big Show back to life.

The troupe is miniature and wooden.

But, the noisy school-age viewers still come in droves.

"Dad doesn't mind kids coming over to look at the little circus," 16-year-old Marilyn Shane said, "He seems to enjoy having them in."

When barely knee-high to the sword-swallower, Shane had lofty aspirations of owning and operating his own troupe.

Zealously, the wide-eyed boy from Fairbury went to work with discarded apple boxes and hunks of balsa wood.

Today, he is the boss-man of a polished homemade, 20-unit outfit. It includes elephants, animal cages, pop stands and the works.

And, the State Railway Commission employe is still wheeling and dealing for bigger and better acts.

Nebraska Site Urged For CAB Frontier Hearing

Omaha (AP)—Omaha aviation interests and the State Aeronautics Department are trying to persuade the Civil Aeronautics Board that a CAB hearing on Frontier Airlines' application to abandon its northern Nebraska route should be held in the state.

The hearing tentatively has been set for Jan. 10 in Washington.

Representatives of the Aeronautics Department, the Omaha Chamber of Commerce and the Omaha Airport Authority will meet Friday to draft a formal application to the CAB to transfer the hearings.

"We're going to have quite a few witnesses and the cost of transporting them to Washington would be very high," said Harry C. Sundblad, Omaha Chamber attorney and transportation manager.

Keeshan Installed Into Kiwanis Post

Albion (AP) — William Keeshan, Albion attorney, was installed as lieutenant governor of Division 11, Iowa-Nebraska District of Kiwanis International.

About 90 Kiwanians and their wives attended the banquet held at the Veterans Club. District Governor Wallace Cassel of Ames, Iowa, was installing officer. Elmer W. Anderson of Omaha presented the lieutenant governor's banner.

Federal Aid To Education OK Probable

. . . Flemming Says

Omaha —Arthur Flemming, U.S. secretary of health, education and welfare, didn't get to make his scheduled talk before the Nebraska County Officials Assn. convention Thursday.

A combination of plane-delaying circumstances knocked out his appearance.

He was due to talk at 2 p.m. but engine trouble at Baltimore delayed his leaving there and he missed connections at Chicago for Omaha. He finally got to Omaha at 4:15 p.m. and left at 4:30 p.m. for Denver where he was to speak Thursday night.

During his stop here he observed:

There is a good chance Congress will pass a federal aid to education bill in 1961 on a construction of classrooms basis with states matching federal funds.

This would provide assistance without running as much risk of federal domination of the schools. If aid is granted for teacher salaries there is always the risk a rider would be attached to the bill saying the money is forthcoming providing funds are not used to teach "course A or course B or course C," Flemming said.

He said he hoped that any medical aid bill passed by Congress would not involve social security. Flemming remarked that the social security approach has the defect of including a lot of people who do not need the care and excluding several million who do.

Twin Spans For Interstate Bridge At Omaha Urged

Ames, Ia. (AP)—Agreement on building of twin 3-lane Interstate Highway bridges between Council Bluffs and Omaha was reported nearer Thursday with approval by the U.S. Bureau of Roads regional office of Kansas City.

John G. Butter, consultant for the Iowa Highway Commission, told that body that the Iowa and Nebraska highway departments had persuaded the regional office that future traffic needs would be served better by twin spans than one 6-lane bridge.

Butter said the matter now goes to Washington and if it is approved there the two states can start designing the project which will cost more than $7 million. Estimates had placed the cost of twin bridges at about $300,000 more than a single span.

Hebron School Plans Are Moving Ahead

Hebron—The Board of Education will meet here Friday to advance plans for a junior high addition to the high school and a new elementary school.

SAC Planes To 'Bomb' Trains

Omaha (AP) — Beginning the first of the year, the Strategic Air Command will move radar bomb scoring detachments by train to provide more of a challenge to bombardiers.

The detachments plot the accuracy of simulated bomb drops by SAC aircraft. There are now 26 of the units on long term or permanent basis.

The first of the special 10-car bomb-scoring trains will leave Hill Air Force Base near Ogden, Utah, about March 1.

Police Release Man Questioned In Girl's Death

Omaha (AP)—A 34-year-old man questioned in the hit and run death of a 6-year-old Norfolk girl last Nov. 10 has been released by police.

The man was held for questioning after police had towed in a car found parked on private property Wednesday. He was taken into custody when he stopped two cruiser car officers and asked why his car was being held.

It had been thought the towed-in car might have been the one involved in the accident.

Beet Growers Rename Orthman

Kearney (AP)—Officers of the Nebraska Beet Growers Assn. were re-elected at the annual convention Thursday.

They are Henry Orthman, Lincoln, president; Lawrence Kuebler, Kearney, vice president; Walter E. Schafer, Elm Creek, secretary-treasurer.

Board members re-elected were Omer Defruiter, Gothenburg; Dudley Stubblefield, Shelton; Albert Sass, Grand Island; Alfred Alberts, Hampton, and state Sen. Hans O. Jensen, Aurora. Carl Gangwish, Shelton, was elected a new member.

Hoot Casts Eye Toward Future

Las Vegas, Nev. (UPI)—Hoot Gibson, who figures he has earned—and spent—about $6 million as a western film star, lay on his hospital bed and talked of new adventures.

"Me and my wife would like to travel around the world," said the actor. "I've been part way around myself . . ."

Gibson, now 68 and white-thatched, has ridden his way through 310 westerns in nearly 50 years of movie-making starting back in 1910.

He was in a happy mood Thursday because he has survived 3 major operations in the past 6 weeks for removal of a bowel obstruction. And doctors tell him he probably can leave the hospital here sometime next week.

Hoot's real name is Edward Richard Gibson.

"I used to go out in the caves and hunt owls around my home in Tekamah, Neb.," he said. "The kids started hollering 'Hoot' at me."

The name stuck.

When Gibson wandered into California in 1910 with some cowboys who rounded up wild horses in Nevada to sell in southern California he called himself "Hoot" Gibson and landed a movie stuntman job.

"I got $20 a week, plus a bonus. For being an Indian, getting shot and falling off a horse I got $2.50 extra."

It was 1920 before he got his first starring role as a leading man in John Ford's movie "Action." Soon he was making money by the fistful—and he lost it nearly just as quickly.

The stock market crash of 1929 took much of it, and some bad investments accounted for most of the rest.

For the past 4 years he worked as a "greeter" at a hotel on Las Vegas' strip. But he was forced to quit when he entered the hospital in the fall and he doesn't plan on going back to the job.

Building Up Nebraska

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

If Governor-elect Frank Morrison continues at his current pace for the next two years, his administration will certainly be an active one and should be a fruitful one for the state. He is now following his Breadbasket Governor's Conference on Agriculture with a trip east in search of new industry for Nebraska. In his eastern venture, he will be working with a number of other Nebraskans in the area for the same reasons.

Just what these representatives of the state will secure for their area by way of new plants and payrolls is quite an uncertainty at the time. This is because the acquisition of new industry is a slow and deliberate process. There is no such thing as partial success with a contact. Either you lose the contact entirely or you get him. You are either a 100 per cent success or a 100 per cent loser with every prospect. And you never know exactly how you are doing until the fateful decision is made. The process is long because an industry simply does not pick up and move overnight.

Long, Slow Process

Such moves are given long study both in the internal affairs of the company and in the area in which a new location is considered possible. Some prospects may be contacted well in advance of their even having determined for sure that they plan any expansion. This means that contacts might be made on a trip such as this current one which would not pay off for months or even longer.

This probably makes the drive for new industry a discouraging one insofar as the general public is concerned but those whose job it is to bring us new industry know what the process is and fully accept it. They would like to return from this trip and announce that some certain firm would be moving to Nebraska on some specific date.

But these people know before they leave that it would be highly unlikely for such a condition to develop. They will not even be able to discuss details of their eastern calls in any specific way because clients generally do not want their business openly discussed. Nebraska Resources Division Chief David Osterhout reported from New York that he will give a concrete report on some proposals and prospects when he returns but this may not be as detailed as it sounds.

But both Osterhout and Morrison have reported encouraging results from their trip. One Chicago firm, specializing in locating industries, told Morrison that Nebraska was an ideal state for expansion because of its people, its government, its location and its underground water supply. Also back East at this time are representatives of Consumers Public Power District and the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce. While immediate benefits from this trip may not be evident, this is the sort of groundwork that must be laid if the future is to hold any hope for us.

Another encouraging report on the growth and economic stability of the state was presented by Dr. Edgar Z. Palmer, director of business research for the University of Nebraska. It might actually be amazing to some people to see that some 70,000 persons a year visit the Enders, Swanson and Strunk Lakes in southwest Nebraska.

These are nice recreational areas but they are still in an embryonic stage so far as their development is concerned. They are seriously lacking in many of the facilities and surroundings which are the mark of really successful recreation areas. Yet, they have done a good business and meant a great deal to the economy of their area.

The Palmer report shows that $2.4 million annually is spent in connection with recreation at the lakes; $1.4 million going directly into the immediate area. Another $2 million is generated in the way of "derivative" business. This spending provides jobs for 50 persons directly, another 50 to 70 persons indirectly and means 300 to 400 persons supported by the recreation business generated by the lakes. A substantial part of this increased activity is provided by non-residents of the state who come into the lake areas. This report certainly takes the guesswork out of benefits to come from development of the state along recreational lines.

Actual Cash Benefits

Some people are skeptical of such development becasuse it is hard for them to see the direct results of it but Palmer's report should make such results crystal clear to them. The report is, also, an answer to those who say we can't afford such development. The real fact is that we can't afford not to have such development. It is hoped that Dr. Palmer's report is given wide circulation.

Losses Will Be Felt

City government will most certainly feel the loss of the three members of the City Council whose terms will be expiring in the summer of 1961. The three, Chauncey W. D. Kinsey, Al DuTeau and Hugh Thorne, have announced they will not seek another term. It would be ridiculous, of course, to say that everyone has always agreed with everything these three men have done as public officials.

But all three of them have worked diligently at the job they undertook to do and each has made his own contribution to the progress of Lincoln and its improvement. They have helped considerably to give Lincoln intelligent public leadership and have been a part of a constantly improving state of local government. A great deal of the face of Lincoln has changed during the years these men have been in office and they deserve a substantial share of the credit for this.

Lincoln's government is probably better today than it has ever been in the history of the city. Not only has it been kept free of any scandals, but all departments of the city have been materially strengthened. Recent years have seen the addition of a multitude of new programs and physical plant improvements. Salaries of city employes have been strengthened and the whole level of government service significantly raised.

It has not been an easy job because taxation is always a difficult thing to deal with and those who serve on the Council put up with many a headache. But it is a service which must be performed, even though it does mean a sacrifice on the part of the individual. Kinsey, DuTeau and Thorne have earned the thanks of the people of Lincoln for the job they have done. It is hoped that other capapble people in the community will realize the responsibility that now falls to them and enter the contest for election to the Council. You can't be criticized for losing an election but you deserve criticism by refusing, without good reason, to make an effort to serve your community.

Burying The Hatchet

The results of the federal state conference on Fort Robinson was encouraging to Nebraska. It appears that henceforth there will be a more liberal relationship between the Nebraska park and recreation interests and the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

It was unfortunate that a conflict of interest arose at the historic northwestern Nebraska fort. It must be conceded that the Department of Agriculture has a real and valid stake in the area for research purposes. But it also must be conceded that Fort Robinson, with much of its early installations still standing, ranks exceptionally high in historical and recreational interest. No one interested in the old West and especially the Indian struggles can find a more nostalgic and fascinating installation than Fort Robinson. But where real interests conflict both must be preserved and accommodation is indicated, for neither should do in the other. And accommodation is what is ensuing from the conversations between federal and state representatives.

Even a more desirable situation and one which may ultimately come about is the acquisition of the fort and its grounds by the state. This is what is being pressed by State Senator Syas, Omaha, and his interim committee on outdoor recreation. A congressional act will be required for such a transfer. Nebraska is now deeply committed to the development of this historic and recreational facilities and ownership of Fort Robinson would assure its maximum care and development. This would be the highest service of the public interest.

Meantime the resolution of many of the past state-federal conflicts is a welcome event and the future of Fort Robinson as a public attraction looks brighter.

Riding Down A Gift Horse

There will always be a great number of people who believe the Congress never should have handed over the off shore oil resources in the Gulf of Mexico. The gift was a potential, and in the case of some of the more fortunate beneficiary states, already is a bonanza.

Inland states like Nebraska have been foreclosed forever from a share of revenues that could be described as flowing from a national rather than a state resource. But the act was passed with the urgent blessing of the Eisenhower administration and that part of the matter is over.

However, the issue is not over among the beneficiary states. Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana are preparing a second thrust at congress to increase the size of the gift. The basis for it is a piece of vagueness in the original law which recognized a state's claim upon the submerged oil resources as far out to sea as their historic limits. Texas and Florida moved in under that claiming territorial limits up to 10 miles out by virtue of an interpretation of their rights during their foreign occupancy. Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama could not easily point to Spanish concessions or, as in the case of Texas, to a treaty by which it changed from an independent republic to a state. They got off-shore rights only as far as the national 3 mile limit.

This new effort to bulge the dimensions of a gift of debatable validity in terms of inter-state justice is one the coming congress can put low on the agenda. It is a form of looking a gift horse in the mouth and should in no matter distract the congress from the many more urgent national questions.

Benson Turns World Traveler

WASHINGTON—The most internationally traveled member of the President's cabinet isn't Secretary Herter who handles foreign problems but Secretary of Agriculture Benson who is supposed to handle farm problems here at home.

On his frequent farm forays overseas, he usually takes along members of his family. Their travel bill, of course, has been paid by the taxpayers.

The Bensons have barnstormed through 42 countries since 1955, going back for revisits to many. They have toured more foreign cities than farms, including such unlikely agriculture centers as Paris, Rome, Madrid, Moscow, Athens, Cairo, Hong Kong, Tokyo, Rio de Janeiro and Buenos Aires.

Benson's power to commandeer a government plane for overseas flights will come to an end next month. Possibly with this in mind, he has taken his family on three hasty trips abroad in the past four months.

He just got back from an an 18-day trip to the Far East with his wife, daughter Beverly, daughter Barbara, and Barbara's husband, Dr. Robert Walker.

They stopped at Salt Lake City (Benson's home town), Honolulu, Tokyo, Taipei, Manila, Sydney, Wellington, and a place called Nandi in the Fiji islands.

Benson reported back to the President that all was well from Tokyo to the Fijis, except for some concern over President-elect Kennedy's "position with respect to Red China."

"It made us proud as Americans," Benson added, "to find with what respect, for example, we are held in Japan"—where hostile mobs a few months earlier barred Ike from making a scheduled visit.

During October, the Benson family made a 13-day swing through Latin America. Accompanying the secretary on this junket were his wife, son Reed, daughter Bonnie, and daughter-in-law May.

Again Benson came back brimming with optimism. He saw "little indication" that Latin Americans are "ready to compromise their hopes and aspirations on the false promises of either Castroism or communism.

"Latin America today," he assured the President, "is flexing its muscles in the direction of greater enterprise and greater freedom in emulation of the American dream."

Hardly had Benson filed this cheerful report than Castroites attempted to overthrow the governments of Nicaragua, Guatemala and Venezuela. Also Brazil's President-elect Janio Quadros, who had made a pilgrimage to Havana to see Castro, spurned invitations to visit President Eisenhower and President-elect Kennedy, went to London instead, while Brazilian vice president Goulart went to Moscow.

In August, Benson took his wife and daughter Beverly on a 17-day safari through Europe and the Middle East. He was also cheerful about these areas upon his return.

Kennedy Stresses Team Over Stars

WASHINGTON — President-elect John Kennedy's own rationalization of his cabinet choices is that he wants a gifted team in each department, not a star to whom he will delegate authority. President Eisenhower notably employed the star system and Kennedy was consistently critical of its operations throughout the last campaign.

The Kennedy designation of Dean Rusk, an experienced technician, as secretary of state with such men as Adlai Stevenson, Chester Bowles and Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan to backstop him fits the president-elect's argument. In the Defense department, now to be headed by the politically inexperienced Robert S. McNamara, president of the Ford Motor Co., the picture is unclear.

Rumors are a dime a dozen, largely because the Kennedy aides and Kennedy himself talk so openly to so many men who make the icy pilgrimage to Georgetown these days. Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. is said to have been promised the Navy secretaryship because he helped Kennedy carry West Virginia in the primary which convinced so many Democratic politicians that the religious issue would not automatically bar Kennedy's election to the presidency.

Other Pentagon sources claim that Harold C. Stuart, an Oklahoma lawyer and former head of the Air Force Association, will be secretary of the Air Force. As usual, the poor old army trails in the production of interesting rumors, but there are plenty of candidates for its top civilian post.

None of the names mentioned carry the weight of prestige, special training and political know-how which the entire State team possesses.

All of them will of course be subject to review by McNamara. He was known in Detroit as one of "Ford's whiz kids" so presumably he has the same respect that Kennedy is evidencing for Phi Beta Kappa keys. But this is not an automatic cure for the experience vacuum left by his own appointment.

It is felt here that a major reason Eisenhower's last defense chief, Secretary Thomas S. Gates Jr., was so successful was that he had working experience in the Pentagon himself at levels which taught him how to profit from mistakes of his predecessors. Gates has done so well, there existed some hope he might be one of the Republicans induced to join the new frontier.

It would probably not be practical to ask him to stay on for awhile in a lesser capacity despite his lively sense of duty. The same thought applies to all the present defense secretariat.

Even if they were willing, the word is being bruited around that Vice-President Richard Nixon and other Republican leaders take a dim view of Eisenhower appointees joining a Kennedy administration.

THE NEIGHBORS SAY

Chicago And A Sore Throat

By MONA B. PARKER

Harold Spence, Holdrege Citizen publisher, mulled over a subject that the old-timers didn't give a second thought to, especially from late fall until spring. And that was whether or not daily bathing was a necessity.

There's one undeniable fact, Mr. Spence states. It didn't seem to affect the health of our forebears. In fact, by reverse logic, many of the old-timers tell how their own parents forbade bathing during the winter months because it was unhealthful, and how the signal for pulling stitches out of the long johns was the time when robins came back from the southland.

Many a small boy today, we would surmise, would be more than willing to proclaim that what was good enough for Great Granddad is good enough for him.

The new 1961 license plates will consist of something resembling decal stickers about two inches square, just the new number to fit over the old. Those on the issuing end declare they cannot be removed, but Schuyler's Francis Rea isn't going to believe it until said property undergoes and passes what he calls the "kids playing" test.

In this process, about a dozen small fry must give it the works, those with "the knack of destroying the indestructible and removing the irremovable." Only then will he believe in their durability.

Harry Morris, writing in the Wymore Arbor State, deplores something he sees on every hand, especially the fact that they are on the increase. That is the large number of farm sales, the bills for which all begin with the same sad words: "As we have decided to quit farming, we will sell at public auction to the highest bidder . . ."

The question is, asks Mr. Morris, "Why are they all deciding to quit?"

And now with most harvesting out of the way, he's afraid the sales will be even more numerous.

There's a mode of transportation catching on in York that has long had favor in England and some of the European countries. Whole families have taken to cycling over hill and dale for pleasure jaunts, while others put them to the more practical use of marketing and other errands. One couple uses a tandem, another has English bikes, and there are many of the ordinary kind in evidence.

With cold and snow in the offing, the cyclists may soon have to "perambulate on runners," the News-Times notes.

They have some die-hard sports enthusiasts in Hank Trysla's neighborhood. Boat owners were still at it out on Crystal Lake until just recently, the Dakota County Star editor relates. The only thing that stopped them was when the lake finally froze over. And there was one rugged individual who went even a step further. He went water skiing, his only concession to winter weather a rubber suit as protection against the cold air and splashing water. Mr. T's only comment on such polar bear pursuits: "Br-r-r-r!"

Charlie Sass went to Chicago for a few days, and he was glad to get back home to Oshkosh. It takes 45 minutes there, he marvels, to get to work—all this on a clear day on the expressway. "Think what happens when it snows!"

Having visited friends, he added: "It took us longer to get from their home to the Union Station on dry paving than it took us to get from Julesburg to Oshkosh on a wet gravel road. We'll take the Nebraska gravel road any time."

Chicago has quantity, he agrees—big buildings, lots of traffic and "several million people who don't care whether we have a sore throat or lumbago." The home town may be several thousand times smaller but at least it holds "people who care how you feel, what you do and how you are getting along."

Human Nature

Lincoln, Neb.

It was encouraging to see the story in The Star about the coeducational dormitory at the University of Nebraska. The story of young men and women living properly within a single dormitory shows us the importance of recognizing human nature.

It is certainly not natural to build up within young people the idea that girls live one way and in their own world while boys live another way in their own world. To segregate them and keep them as far apart as possible is only to arouse unnatural curiosity in them and promote misunderstanding.

Young men and women should learn early in life to get along with one another. They should learn to respect each other, not because of forced social laws, but because of their natural respect for the dignity of every human being, regardless of sex. Properly supervised coeducational dormitories are a contribution to higher moral standards and a more rewarding social order among our young people and for the future.

Proud Of His Son

Lincoln, Neb.

This is in answer to "Links Mother." The small group of boys in the Southeast cheering section are a fine bunch of clean-living kids. My son is among them and we are well acquainted with the others. As for the individual large cut of a Southeast player, "Links Mother," you would be exceedingly proud to have a son like this young man. He is a fine boy, clean-living, on the Southeast honor roll, and above all, a perfect gentleman. He has been in our home numerous times as have several of these kids.

If you have a fight with the newspaper, well and good. Don't unjustly berate and condemn these normal, healthy, partisan Southeast kids. I would be ashamed of my son if he wasn't rightfully loyal to his school.

The Innocent Suffer

Anselmo, Neb.

It seems as if some of us are more interested in how to protect criminals than in how to protect the innocent. We have almost ceased to punish criminals at all. Years ago, thieves were nailed to a cross. Then later we had whipping posts, then locking them up in frames to torture them. At last we decided to treat them better. Now they are confined in good homes, fed well, kept comfortable, furnished with entertainment, clothing, medical care and just about everything that most people would be pleased with. Often after a few years we pardon them, turn them out into a cold world, and many of them turn again to crime and innocent people suffer. Do we care much for the innocent?

Christ believed in punishment. He drove the thieves and money-changers out of the temple with a whip.

Christmas Story

Beatrice, Neb.

The lowly stable of Bethlehem where Christ was born was in all probability one of the caves with overhanging ledges that abound in a limestone country such as the Judean hills, enlarged to provide shelter for the livestock of the innkeeper and beasts of burden of travelers. The hands that fashioned the stone manger little dreamed that one day the Little Lord Jesus would be laid on the fragrant hay by his sainted Mother Mary, with sheep and other beasts of burden standing by.

No room at the inn, so the travel-worn Mary brought forth her first-born and wrapped Him in swaddling clothes and laid Him in the manger with the help of the innkeeper's wife and Joseph. The Star of the East shone brightly overhead and the angelic chorus lighted up the hills of old Judea, guiding the lowly shepherds to the place where the Baby lay. The three wise men and their camels came to the inn where they found Him, leaving presents at His feet. They worshipped Him and then departed home by another way, thereby thwarting cruel King Herod who in rage had all the male children under two years of age slain in a futile effort to slay the Lord who with Joseph and Mary were safely on their way to Egypt where they found refuge for the time being. The gold of the three wise men was no doubt their livelihood.

Of such was the birth of our Lord in the lowly stable of Bethlehem. He grew to manhood, laboring and fulfilling His Father's will until one day they crucified Him on bleak Golgotha hill. From the tomb He rose triumphant and on that glorious Easter morn mingled with Mary and His disciples until He went to His home where He reigns. Down through the ages He has promised to come again.

Handicapped Children Aid Hike May Be Sought From Legislature

By Virgil Falloon

A bill increasing state aid payments to schools for the education of mentally and physically handicapped children may be introduced in the 1961 Legislature.

The Nebraska Society for Crippled Children, the American Legion, and school administrators from a dozen Nebraska towns have expressed support for such a measure.

It would increase state reimbursement to a maximum of $300 a year for education of the mentally handicapped and $600 for the physically handicapped child. Present limits are $200 and $400.

The proposed measure would also eliminate the present concept in the state aid program of reimbursment only for the cost of the special education in excess of the school district's regular per pupil cost.

State Department of Education figures for the 1959-60 school year show that Nebraska schools spent $804,691 for the education of the mentally or physically handicapped.

Under present law, these schools were eligible for state aid totalling $345,000, but received only 84 cents on the dollar because the available appropriation was only $286,000.

State aid averaged only 36% of the cost, or $99.83, per pupil. There were 3,450 children in the special education program.

School districts in which school officials had expressed support for the proposed amendment on state aid for special education include Lincoln, Omaha, Omaha West Side, York, North Loup-Scotia, Kearney, Wilber, Fremont, Beatrice, Nebraska City, Grand Island and Sidney.

Mitchell Happy Over Goldberg

Washington (AP) — Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell told his designated successor there could not have been a "better appointment."

Mitchell sent this telegram to Arthur J. Goldberg a few minutes after President-elect John F. Kennedy announced Goldberg's appointment to the labor post:

"Congratulations on your appointment as secretary of labor. I join with all my associates in the Labor Department in wishing you a successful administration. We all believe that President-elect Kennedy could not have made a better appointment."

Miller Asks New Trial Of Suit Against College

A motion for a new trial has been filed in U.S. District Court in Lincoln by Donald Miller of Mission, Kan.

Miller, 23, former student at Concordia College at Seward, was awarded $147,500 in damages from another former Concordia student, James Hahn, 23, of Maywood, Ill., by a federal jury two weeks ago.

The motion, filed by Miller's attorney, Robert Guenzel, alleges that the federal court, which heard his $740,000 personal injury trial Nov. 28-Dec. 2, acted "contrary to law" in reaching its verdict.

In the original suit, Miller sought $740,000 in damages from Hahn, Concordia College and its officials for injuries he received Jan. 23, 1958, when he was shot by Hahn in a Concordia dormitory.

He contended that he sustained permanent injuries from the shot fired by Hahn, and that Concordia and its officials were negligent in permitting conditions to exist which led to the shooting.

Federal Judge Robert Van Pelt dismissed the college and its officials from the suit at the end of the week-long trial, ruling there was "no active negligence" on their part, and turned the case against Hahn, the remaining defendant, over to the jury.

The new trial motion cited the following reasons:

—That the order of the court sustaining the motions of the defendants, Concordia College and its officials, for a directed verdict was contrary to law and evidence.

—That the order of the court excluding testimony of plaintiff's mother, Mrs. Doris Miller, as to admissions made by Concordia Dean of Men Rheinhold Griesse, regarding liability of the college for damages and expenses for the injury suffered by plaintiff, was contrary to law and evidence.

—That the order of the court excluding testimony of Mrs. Miller, as to admissions made by Concordia faculty member Bob Flager regarding dangerous character and propensities of Hahn, was contrary to law and evidence.

—That the order of the court excluding the testimony of plaintiff's father, Edward G. Miller, as to admissions made by Dean Griesse in a telephone conversation regarding knowledge of the prior acts of misconduct and dangerous character and propensities of Hahn, was contrary to law and evidence.

Judge Van Pelt will probably rule on the motion at a hearing Dec. 23.

Fire Sweeps Through Swanky Texas Hotel

Austin, Tex. (UPI) — Fire swept through the 3rd floor of the Commodore Perry Hotel, destroying a swanky private club and the main ballroom and causing damage estimated "conservatively" at $200,000.

The fire routed more than 300 sleepy guests, who poured into the smoke-filled lobbies in their night clothes. No one was injured.

Wheat Growers Praised By Kennedy

The National Assn. of Wheat Growers have received a personal message from President-elect John F. Kennedy.

Addressed to the association's president, Carl Bruns of Chappell, the message read:

"I am confident that your deliberations will be helpful in developing a constructive program which can be put into effect.

"I look forward to working with your leaders in the development of that program and want to thank you for your co-operation in the past."

The National Assn. of Wheat Growers was among the first agricultural group to receive favorable mention by Kennedy during his campaign.

Bruns was one of the first appointments named by Kennedy to serve with the wheat group.

The wheat growers in their recent national association meeting at Enid, Okla., made plans for establishing a Washington office.

Increased foreign sales, market development and increased association membership were given significant credit by wheat grower officials.

C. H. "Mannie" Kreader of Lincoln, executive-secretary for the Nebraska Wheat Growers Assn., terms the increase in membership which has doubled in many Nebraska counties due to "the increased interest wheat growers are taking in the future of their crop."

Lancaster County wheat growers recently organized a Lancaster County Wheat Growers Assn.

Officers of the Lancaster group are Wayne Marolf of Waverly, president; Dan Olson of Raymond, secretary, and Elmer J. Beckman of Malcolm, treasurer.

Dam Powerhouse Contract Goes To Charlotte Firm

Omaha (AP) — The Army Engineers announced Thursday award of a $17,461,918 contract for construction of the powerhouse substitute for Big Bend Dam near Chamberlain, S.D.

Col. H. G. Woodbury Jr., Omaha district engineer, said the contract went to the J. A. Jones Construction Co. and Brown and Root, Inc., operating as a joint venture headquartered in Charlotte, N.C. The government estimate on the project was $18,491,832.50.

The contract provides for a 200 by 700 foot reinforced concrete substructure to house eight 60,000 kilowatt hydroelectric units. Completion of the job is required by October, 1963.

OLD FASHIONED CHRISTMAS

footstool in manual training class. Not that we were prone to accidents, but merely that we did so many more practical things in those days.

We had been working for months on our first preparations. They would begin with the annual trip to the farm after frost, driving the wagon right down in the pasture where the trees were and filling it with as many black walnuts as we wanted. My job would be to spread them out on a low roof over a porch at home, having made a V of boards to hold them there. Then when they were ready I would hull them, my hands turning a rich dark brown with the stain.

The cooking began early too, as sauerkraut was put in 10 gallon crocks in the basement. Cookies of a surprising sweetness were put to age in jars, from which came a mysterious, heavy scent which I could not identify then, but which, in memory, seems suspiciously like brandy.

We made many of the decorations for the tree, my brother and I having a regular round of stores where we had persuaded the owners to save for us the heavy sheets of leadfoil in which chewing tobacco was wrapped. From drug stores we had lighter silverfoil from candy. Then we used to wrap around long, pointed butternuts, or to make paper horns for holding candy.

A Star for the Tree

We always made a star for the tip of the tree, and were proud that it had a delectable reek of mingled tobacco and chocolate which seemed to permeate the room as the candles warmed it.

My sisters would make little figures of cardboard with clothes and hair pasted on, or of cloth, white angels from thick felt with tiny wands of gilded matchsticks.

With the things of this world so easily available now, brought from the far ends of the earth in less time than it used to require just to cross this country, children have little sense of how strange many articles seemed to us.

An orange was not the common fruit it is today, and in our family it only appeared at Christmas time, so that it became a part of the great splendor of the Day. Dates, also, wer limited to the holiday season, and with their exotic taste and the camels on the boxes in which they came, brought an association with the Holy Land.

Cranberries came from another state, glossy red and wonderful for stringing on a thread to make ruddy decorations on the tree. We would alternate popcorn and cranberry, at great expense of sticking fingers, and then put the white and red strings over the branches as our own child-contribution.

With Our Own Hands

Christmas was the mightiest episode of our year. Other holidays had their points, but this was the one for which we began getting ready months ahead, when we joined in the total effort of the family to acknowledge that birth which we could imagine so clearly. "Lying in a manger," the text ran, and had we not all put hay into a manger?

Christmas then was not just one more "spectacular" of shadowy images on a television tube, the famous and expensive names of theatre and entertainment, doing their Christmas stuff as they do their westerns and slick comedies and mystery thrillers.

We made our own Christmas, with our hands, with our animals, with our little ingenuities. Above all, we made it in our own home, in the midst of all that we had created for months in the quiet celebration of a plain family unaided by the perfect scenes which professionals can put in your homes today.

At the risk of burning down our house, we lit our Christmas candles. Having eaten our own food, raised and kept by us, having eaten the turkey we had fattened ourselves, wearing the clothes which had originated right in that house, we would go out to feed and water our own animals. In that act, so close to their simple lives, we found some of the lively power which has kept the image of a Child alive and energetic over so much of this round world.

NEXT — A Newsboy's Christmas. How the carrier knows more about the progress of Christmas than anyone else.

Three Retirement Residences Will Serve 3% Of Lincoln's Senior Citizens

By Jim Woodson

Three per cent of Lincoln's 15,000 senior citizens will be served by the 3 major retirement residences on which construction is scheduled to begin in 1961.

The programs of Gateway Manor, Clark Jeary Memorial Manor, and Pioneer Housing were explained Thursday at a meeting of the Christian Social Betterment division of the Lincoln Council of Churches.

The monthly cost for a two-bedroom apartment in one of these residences will average approximately $125, according to spokesmen for the 3 programs.

Gateway Manor executive manager L. A. Philippi, Pioneer Housing secretary Miss Selma Hult, and Jeary Memorial Manor chairman Ray Hansen of Omaha all stated that there will be no racial or religious discrimination in the applications of residents for these homes.

The spokesmen informed the Council that each of their residences will have social and recreational programs and will be well situated in regard to transportation to the downtown business district.

Clark Jeary Memorial Manor will be constructed and operated by the United Presbyterian Welfare Foundation, Synod of Nebraska. Both Gateway Manor and Pioneer Housing will be financed by FHA housing for the elderly funds.

Infirmaries Planned

The Jeary Home and Gateway Manor will both have infirmaries, but the Pioneer Housing apartment residence will not. According to Miss Hult:

"All of our members carry health and hospital insurance and for this reason we do not feel an infirmary is required in the building."

Asked about taking senior citizens who are not financially independent, the spokesmen said that while getting started they will only be able to handle financially independent residents.

"After getting a good sound start, endowments, we hope, should enable us to begin taking in some of those who are not financially able to buy their own residences," said Hansen.

Programs Described

Each speaker described briefly what his residence program would provide:

Pioneer Housing, to be located at 12th and H, calls for a 60-apartment unit for those 60 years of age or past. Altrusa club is the sponsor for this residence which includes 7 floors of 7 apartments each in present plans. Kitchenettes in the units will replace the central dining room featured by Gateway Manor and Jeary Manor.

"Our location was chosen to accommodate the many senior citizens interested in living in the downtown area where they can reach their customary haunts without inconvenience," Miss Hult added.

Gateway Manor, to be located on a 14-acre site at 56th and O, is designed with 170 apartment units which will include private baths, ample closet and storage space and a snack kitchen. Some will have balconies. The structure itself will contain a 24-hour infirmary, central dining room, chapel, library, recreation and guest rooms, as well as many other attractive features.

Clark Jeary Memorial Manor, on a 4-acre site at 60th and A, will have a total of 60 apartment-type rooms, 20 single and 40 double. It will include continual infirmary service, dining room plus snack bar on each of 3 floors, chapel, recreational facilities, library and laundry.

"In these modern facilities," concluded Philippi," the senior citizen may meet approaching old age with calmness and contentment."

NAACP Re-Elects Williams; Notes Membership Growth

The Rev. P. Albert Williams was re-elected president of the Lincoln Chapter of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People Thursday night.

Rev. Williams

Speaking to the group the Rev. Mr. Williams said that the NAACP is unique in that it is the "most effective force for civil rights that has ever existed."

He said that while the NAACP has helped serve individual needs it has also served in a significant function to strengthen and preserve American Democracy.

Membership Grows

A report circulated at the meeting, held at the Malone Community Center, showed that the local chapter has a membership of 84, as compared with 15 a year ago.

The Rev. Mr. Williams said the goal for the coming year is a membership of 300.

The chapter will purchase a share in Modern Community Developments Inc. of Lincoln, integrated housing project, he reported.

The operating budget for the coming year will be $1,000, he said.

Others Named

Others elected along with the Rev. Mr. Williams were the Rev. G. L. Collins, first vice-president; the Rev. Everett Reynolds, second vice-president; Mrs. Rosemary Phannix, secretary; Mrs. Basilia Bell, assistant secretary; and Mrs. Virginia Greeder, treasurer.

Elected to the executive board were Wright Robinson, Felix Polk, James L. Cox, James Stewart, Mrs. Lenora Lepcher, Mrs. Hugh Bullock and Mrs. Ernest Edington. Also elected subject to their approval were Albert Schrekinger and the Rev. Carroll Lemon.

Belgium Has Queen

Populace Cheers Baudouin's Bride

Brussels (AP) — King Baudouin and his radiant bride went off on their honeymoon Thursday night, leaving happy Belgians hoarse from cheering.

Within a matter of months, the nation had lost an empire but gained a queen. Thursday Belgians, for the moment, forgot the Congo.

It was a time for dancing and laughter, a time to cry out: "Long live the king, long live the queen."

Far into the night, singers strolled the streets and citizens stood before the floodlit palace, trading impressions of a gala day and a great reunion of Europe's dwindling royalty.

For hours the citizens stood hoping for another glimpse of Baudouin and Queen Fabiola, but the royal couple apparently gave them the slip. A plane often used by the king flew off to Spain.

The plane came down at Sevilla, capital of Andalucia Province in Spain. Spectators were kept far from the plane, but reliable informants said the couple had arranged to spend the night there before proceeding to Malaga.

The 30-year-old king and his 32-year-old bride, a Spanish aristocrat, were married in two ceremonies filled with the pageantry of royalty and church.

Man Trapped In Mine 70 Hours, Dies

Toronto (AP) — Alan Rose, 26, died in a hospital, losing a 3-week fight for his life after being trapped for nearly 70 hours in a debris-choked tunnel of a northern Ontario gold mine.

Rose had been in critical condition since his right foot was amputated Friday. The immediate cause of death was given as hemorrhage of the bowel brought on by kidney failure.

Rose lay nearly 3 days pinned beneath shattered timbers and gravel, after a cave-in Nov. 19 at the Hollinger Consolidated Gold Mine at Timmins, 500 miles north of Toronto.

Local Labor Chief Hails Appointment

Henry Greenwalt, president of the Lincoln Central Labor Union, hailed the appointment of Arthur Goldberg as new U.S. Secretary of Labor "with great enthusiasm."

The Lincoln labor leader expressed regrets that his own favorite, Joe Keenan of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, was not tabbed for the post, but said of Goldberg: "I am sure that we will get fair decisions from this man."

"We are very pleased that Sen. Kennedy selected an AFL-CIO man," Greenwalt said, "and I have read of the results of Goldberg's work and am sure he will be a credit to the labor movement."

He described Goldberg as "a type of peacemaker, who will do a job in terms of bringing labor and management into agreement."

Robert Kennedy 'Would Take Job'

New York (AP)—The New York Herald Tribune said Robert F. Kennedy has told President-elect John F. Kennedy that he will accept the post of attorney general.

The newspaper said the younger Kennedy has hesitated for weeks about accepting the post offered by his brother. But, barring another change of mind, the paper added, the senator will announce the appointment within a few days.

Moon Shot Fails In A Blazing Blast

. . . Sixth Disappointment For United States

Cape Canaveral, Fla. (AP)—A massive Atlas-Able moon rocket exploded in flight Thursday, ending an abortive $40 million U.S. program to lauch the first lunar satellite.

The blazing explosion 40,000 feet over the Atlantic hurled flaming fragments of the 10-story-tall rocket and a 388-pound space craft into the water 8 to 12 miles off Cape Canaveral. The silver-plated space craft was crammed with electronic instruments geared to make an extensive study of the moon's environment.

This was the sixth time American space scientists tried and failed to rocket a satellite around the moon. The flop leaves Russia with a long lead in the field of lunar exploration.

Two Soviet Successes

Soviet scientists last year smacked Lunik II into the moon and took pictures of the hidden lunar backside from Lunik III, A wide-swinging earth satellite which whirled behind the moon on its first orbit.

The rocket flown Thursday was the fourth and last Atlas-Able, a 3-stage hybrid vehicle developed 15 months ago to try to match Russian space achievements until more powerful U.S. rockets became available. The bigger Atlas-Agena B and Centaur rockets won't be ready for several months.

An official of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) estimated average cost of each Atlas-Able launching at about $10 million.

Disappointed space agency officials began studying data radioed from the rocket during its 70-second flight Thursday in an effort to learn what went wrong. Skin divers were to try to recover pieces of the vehicle from 70 feet of water.

Welfare Gets More Money, Less People

The 1959-60 trend toward fewer recipients but higher costs continued through November in two of Nebraska's welfare programs, the State Board of Welfare reported Thursday.

There were fewer recipients in both the old-age assistance program and the aid-to-the-blind program than the same month last year.

There were more recipients, however, in the aid-to-dependent-children and aid-to-the disabled programs.

The costs of all programs, of which the federal government pays about 68%, were higher than during the same month last year.

In the old-age program, there were 14,638 cases receiving total obligations of $1,144,040. This worked out to $50.26 each in cash, plus an average of $27.81 in medical benefits.

In the aid-to-the blind program, there were 805 cases receiving $76,958 or a total of $59.83 each in cash plus an average of $36.44 in medical benefits.

In the aid-to-dependent children program, there were 11,185 children and adults receiving a total of $349,557 for an average of $31.25 per recipient, or $119.88 per family, in cash and medical benefits.

In the aid-to-disabled program, there were 1,984 cases receiving $155,885 for an average of $78.57 each in cash and medical benefits.

GENE EATON

Chest Elects Gene Eaton As President

Gene C. Eaton, National Bank of Commerce vice president, was elected president of the Lincoln Community Chest at a board of directors meeting Thursday.

Eaton, who succeeds Thomas R. Pansing, served as first vice president of the Chest during the past year, and was general chairman of the United Campaign in the fall of 1959.

Other newly-elected officers are: Fred Herrington, first vice president; Mrs. W. C. Meierhenry, 2nd vice president; Harry Seward, secretary; and James Nissen, treasurer.

Outgoing officers are Mrs. Glenn Yaussi, 2nd vice president; Herbert C. Henderson, secretary; and Eugene Reece, treasurer.

Chest organization for the coming year will be completed at the annual meeting in February. Six new executive committee members and 11 new board members will be elected at that time.

Assured Of Safety

Pillsbury's New Date Bread Mix!

Fragrant, moist and rich with dates. Real date bread to welcome them warmly!

Never before from a mix have you made such a quality quick bread. Because never before (as far as we know, and we investigated!) has a quick bread mix package contained ingredients to match these.

So quick to the oven, you know it's a mix. But you'll think you made it from a favorite old recipe.

To make the little "rounds," fill soup cans two-thirds full, bake at 375° for 35-40 minutes. Makes four. Package tells how to make regular loaf size. (Nothing says lovin' like something from the oven and Pillsbury says it best!)

POSTCARD by Stan Delaplane

There was a haze of fog over the county this morning. A drip of fog off the madrone trees. The morning paper was a little soggy.

These are excellent days for hunting wild turkeys. Also bears and lions. On mornings like this, my 5-year-old goes hunting all these things.

We bundle him up in dungarees and boots and a red sweater.

He takes the broken gun. (All our guns are broken right now. But Christmas is coming and we will be armed to the teeth again.)

"And if you see any pesky redskins, shoot them. Tell them to get off the property or your Daddy will come out and make a big fuss."

☆ ☆ ☆

So far, our hunter has not racked up turkey, bear or lion. And no Indian has come around.

That does not mean there aren't any Indians. Not at all.

"They are scared of you and me. That is why you never see any Indians, son. They have heard we are rootin' shootin' people. They are scared to come around."

As for lions and bears and turkeys — well, we have an idea they are scared, too. Just knowing we are hunting them is enough to frighten them out of their wits.

It is a fortunate thing that I can recall my own youth as a hunter. I don't do much of this morning hunting anymore: But in my day I was feared more than Deerslayer.

The hunting we were most interested in was the ads in "American Boy."

I got this fabulous magazine every month. And I read every word.

"TRAP WILD ANIMALS! MAKE BIG MONEY!"

This was absolutely irresistible — appealing to the killer instinct and cupidity.

There was an enticement at the botton: "Send no money."

That was another good thing. Because none of us had any money to send.

☆ ☆ ☆

We thereupon clipped the coupon and sent it. It was a Kansas City, Mo., firm as I recall.

The Kansas City firm sent us back a folder of glowing literature.

"John Blank writes us from Onebago, Western Canada: 'Your traps are the best! Last week I skinned a catch of 20 mink and one silver fox! My investment in your Sta-Grabbed traps has paid me over $1000!' "

It seems that the firm sold traps.

They would sell you Sta-Grabbed traps for any size beast. Including bears. "The black bear pelt in prime winter condition is worth $20 on the Kansas City market!"

☆ ☆ ☆

There was one frustrating point: You had to BUY these traps first. After you bought them, you simply went out, and using skillful woodsmen wiles, you trapped youself $1000.

You could buy all the traps you wanted then.

We explained this by letter to the firm. We would take the traps and THEN we would pay them. Pay them double! —what was double to a millionaire?

The Kansas City firm remained firm.

"We cannot advance credit on our Sta-Grabbed traps due to the fact that we sell them at a very low profit. That is why these excellent traps are so cheap. Let me advise you your investment will pay you ten times over . . ."

Along with this came other letters from satisfied trappers. In Alaska. In Minnesota. In Wyoming and Montana. "Got five beaver and six mink this week . . ."

☆ ☆ ☆

So reluctantly we gave up the Sta-Grabbed people. We made a Figure-4 trap like it showed in the book we got from the library. We got the neighbor's cat one night. But she got away before we could pelt her out.

Goldberg Once Had A Million Dollar Ache

Washington (AP) — The man tapped to be secretary of labor in the Kennedy administration once had a $10 million headache.

The anecdote illustrates the ingenuity and imagination of attorney Arthur Joseph Goldberg.

Steel labor contract negotiations in Pittsburgh were near their climax a few years ago.

Both sides were getting ready to settle, but Goldberg felt the industry could and would surrender another penny-an-hour's worth. This would cost the employers an extra $10 million annually.

Goldberg had no time to tell his union colleagues what he was up to. He declared he had a terrible headache, and forced a delay in negotiations. A strike developed, but lasted only a few hours. The employers granted the extra cent.

Goldberg, now 52, has been an important behind-scenes operator for organized labor for a dozen years. He helped steer the merger of the AFL and CIO in 1955 into the present AFL-CIO.

Besides being general counsel for the Steelworkers Union, Goldberg has been special counsel to AFL-CIO President George Meany and counsel to the federation's industrial union department, headed by Walter Reuther.

Gets Along Fine

Few men know the complex ins and outs of organized labor and get along better with all its leaders, while at the same time being on excellent terms with the nation's political leaders. He was an early and staunch supporter of President-elect John F. Kennedy.

Whenever labor unions have a big job to be done Goldberg usually is called in. This includes legislative tangles on Capitol Hill or legal tangles in the courts.

A recent project Goldberg has been working on, for example, is seeking clemency for a group of textile unionists in prison in North Carolina in an alleged bombing conspiracy during a strike.

A native of Chicago, Goldberg worked his way through college. He piled up a scholastic average at Northwestern University law school that stood many years before it was matched. He began law practice in Chicago and still has offices there as well as in Washington. He also has residences in both cities.

Orville Freeman Tough, Driving As Governor

St. Paul, Minn. (AP)—Orville L. Freeman, 42-year-old lawyer who will be the next agriculture secretary, has been a driving, dynamic governor of Minnesota.

During his 6 years in office he launched extensive programs to provide needed new buildings and conducted a vigorous drive to attract new business to the state. His administration was marked by frequent battles with conservatives in the state legislature.

Freeman's bid for a 4th two-year term failed. While other members of his Democratic party were re-elected last month, Freeman lost to Republican Elmer L. Andersen, a former state senator.

Through his terms of office he has fought the farm programs of Secretary Ezra Taft Benson and has made a number of appearances before congressional committees supporting legislation to strengthen the family farm.

He is the first Minnesotan to be named to a cabinet post since William D. Mitchell who was attorney general in the Hoover cabinet.

Ball Player

A football player at the University of Minnesota where he studied law, Freeman still has the tall, trim figure of an athlete.

An early supporter of John F. Kennedy, he put the senator's name in nomination at the Democratic National Convention last July.

Freeman is an intense party loyalist and a warm comrade-in-arms of Sen. Hubert Humphrey, D-Minn., his political tutor. From an ambitious visionary Freeman grew into a tough-minded party leader, realistic but still enough a crusader to get involved in public scraps potentially dangerous to his career.

Bruising Encounters

He encountered opposition from industrial interests who contended state taxes already are too high. His encounters with the mining industry have been bruising on both sides.

He was born in Minneapolis of Scandinavian parentage. Freeman got the usual political prepping through various club activities and the University of Minnesota from where he was graduated with highest honors and a Phi Beta Kappa key. He worked part time as a janitor to pay his way through college.

Radio-TV Net Chiefs Urge Much Shorter Presidential Election Campaigns

Washington (UPI) — Two radio-TV network chiefs joined Thursday in calling for election campaigns and repeal of the "equal time" law that was suspended during the Kennedy-Nixon race.

Robert W. Sarnoff, board chairman of the National Broadcasting Co., and Dr. Frank Stanton, president of the Columbia Broadcasting System, said long campaigns were outdated in the era of mass TV exposure for presidential and vice presidential candidates.

They presented their views to the House Elections Committee. At the request of Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex) the group is considering whether campaigns are too long and if so what can be done to shorten them.

6 or 8 Weeks

Stanton and Sarnoff said 6 or 8 weeks would be long enough for any presidential campaign. They suggested that such a limit could be imposed by holding the national party conventions as late as September instead of in July as at present.

They also said that suspension of the "equal time" provision of the Federal Broadcasting Act during the 1960 campaign permitted radio-TV stations to present the major party candidates without being required to grant equal air time to minor candidates.

The committee was told this was a blessing in disguise to President-elect John F. Kennedy and Vice President Richard M. Nixon because they were given a lot of free air time on public service programs.

Stanton Sends Letter

Sarnoff presented his views in person. Stanton set forth his position in a letter to committee Chairman Clifford Davis, D-Tenn. It was read to the committee by CBS Vice President Edmund Bunker.

Rep. John S. Monagan, D-Conn., joined in the plea for shorter campaigns and proposed that a 6-week limit be imposed by law. He said the 1960 campaign of almost 4 months left the candidates "physical wrecks."

Declaring that over-long campaigns also leave the public "bored to distraction," Monagan said:

"When this point has been reached, those who are running have become automatons, endlessly repeating the same catchwords while the voters, in self-defense, turn their television screens to Westerns and whodonits."

Rep. Thomas B. Curtis, R-Mo., another witness, criticized news media for a "lack of self-discipline in assuring fair presentation of what may be an unorthodox or minority viewpoint. He called for exercise of a greater responsibility by the press and broadcasting industry.

Curtis also proposed that Congress lift all dollar limits on campaign spending, but impose strict new requirements on full public accounting of what has been spent.

Sarnoff said that broadcasters were permitted to exercise their journalistic freedom for the first time during the 1960 campaign.

He said NBC produced special campaign programs, at no expense to the parties, which otherwise would have cost them $1,686,000. He said this was 66% more than the parties actually spent for paid political broadcasts on the NBC-TV network.

Sarnoff said the fact that expanded TV campaign coverage, including the 4 "Great Debates" carried on all radio-TV networks, "enabled the parties to hold down campaign expenditures in broadcasting is an incidental benefit, but one that we are delighted to see."

Sarnoff asserted that the candidates received such good free coverage that at one point they expresed fear about the "risk of over-exposure."

He recommended that the "equal time" provision be lifted permanently "as soon as possible," granting the stations freedom over campaign program format.

"It is clear today," he said, "that broadcasters have passed the test, not only for the sheer size of their effort in presenting the candidates but for the fairness and responsibility of their presentation."

Book Spending In Omaha School System Up 740%

Omaha (AP) — Supt. of Schools Harry Burke reported a 15-year program to improve Omaha school libraries resulted in a 740% rise in spending for books.

Before 1946, said Burke, Omaha schools had no systemwide library program. Today all Omaha elementary and secondary schools have libraries.

He said there are 244,000 volumes on hand today compared with 137,000 in 1946 when the first complete records were kept.

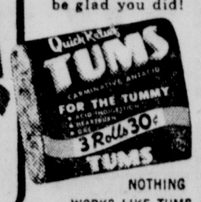

The total spent for books in the 1959-60 year was $59,554. In 1946 $7,000 was spent on library books.

Poulsons Incorporate

Articles of incorporation for O. E. Poulson, Inc., a motor carrier located in Elm Creek, were filed in the Nebraska secretary of state's office. Incorporators of the firm, authorized to issue $100,000 in capital stock, were Robert Poulson and O. E. Poulson, both of Elm Creek.

Coffee, 70, Planning To Retire

Omaha (AP) — Harry B. Coffee, 70, announced his retirement as president of the Union Stock Yards Co. Omaha Thursday.

Coffee

Directors elected Fred W. Gilmore, Washington deputy governor of the Farm Credit Administration and director of the Federal Land Bank Service, as Coffee's successor.

The change will take place Feb. 2 at the firm's annual meeting.

Coffee, president since 1943, will continue as chairman of the board.

14 Freight Cars Derailed Near Hazard

Hazard (AP) — Wreckers and crews from Alliance and Lincoln worked throughout the night to clear 14 derailed freight cars from Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad tracks 3 miles west of here.

The cars were part of an eastbound 105-car freight. Fertilizer, canned foods and lumber were strewn along the tracks as the cars broke up like match sticks.

The cause of the derailment was not immediately determined.

OPPD Budgets $5,750,000 For Generating Unit

Omaha (AP) — Directors of the Omaha Public Power District Thursday approved an $11,657,000 construction budget which includes $5,750,000 for a 125,000 kilowatt generating unit at OPPD's North Omaha Power Station.

The unit will be the 4th built at the plant. It is due for completion in 1963 and will cost a total of $22 million.

OPPD President J. M. Harding said there is no indication of an increase in standard electric rates for the coming year.

WHY your grocer points with pride... to the ROBERTS name on his milk carton

For obvious reasons, milk may not be fully protected from chemical impurities either through heat or refrigeration. Only laboratory checking and control can assure this safeguard in conformity with new federal law.

Your processor is responsible for this protection. The Roberts name on the carton represents Roberts' acceptance of this responsibility.

That is why your conscientious grocer points with pride to the Roberts name, whether on a premium or economy carton of milk. For he, too, is interested in your well-being.

Court Is Asked To Rehear Case On Grounds Jury Influenced By Article

The Nebraska Supreme Court was asked Thursday to rehear the case of an Omaha man sentenced to 15 years, John S. Davis, on grounds that the jury was influenced by an article in an Omaha newspaper.

The Douglas County District Court found Davis guilty of grand larceny on Jan. 28, and in February he was sentenced to 15 years in the State Penitentiary as a habitual criminal.

The supreme court affirmed the conviction Dec. 2.

Davis' attorney, Jack L. Spence, said "the presence of the article in the jury room and the discussion of the offending article during the jury's deliberations were highly prejudicial to his (Davis') rights to a fair and impartial trial . . ."

Spence did not name the source of the article in his brief.

He said one juror stated by affidavit that another juror read the article to her after the voting was over, and that "in her opinion that juror had a preconceived notion as to the guilt of the defendant (Davis) based on the newspaper article."

He also said another juror stated the article was discussed in the jury room "and influenced her to vote for the conviction of the defendant."

He said this juror "even recalled the instructions of the trial court to disregard the articles, but stated that the jury ignored the instructions and used the article to convict the defendant."

He said the article was read orally to the judge and handed to him, and he admonished the jury to not be influenced "by any information which came before them by the way of a newspaper article the evening before."

"It is obvious from the manner in which the incident was handled," Spence said, "that the trial court considered the article prejudicial to the rights of the defendant . . ."

Deputy State Sheriffs Renamed By Burney

S. S. Drummy Jr. of North Platte and C. W. Shaffer Jr. of Omaha were reappointed as deputy state sheriffs Thursday by Gov. Dwight Burney.

Limited View

Bangkok, Thailand (AP)—The supreme patriarch has restricted the TV watching of Buddhist priests to educational and news program. He promises quick punishment for any priest caught looking at a sports or music show.

CARMICHAEL

Peacock In Telephone Booth More Trouble Than Woman

Philadelphia (AP)—He is a patient man who waits politely in 8 above weather outside a phone booth apparently occupied by a woman taking her own sweet time about ringing off.

Fred Ulmer, a curator at the zoo, is such a man. There he was, his ears puling with the cold, and through the glass sides of the booth on the zoo grounds he saw colored feathers bobbing this way and that. Ulmer didn't want to seem nosey, so he kept a discreet distance. He assumed the plumage was part of a woman's hat.

This is ridiculous, Ulmer finally said to himself. Whereupon he went boldly up to the booth's partly open door.

You could have bowled him over with a pin feather.

For this was no lady. It was a peacock.

But a bird with no birdbrain, mind you.

He had picked a booth with a southern exposure. Whatever sun there was was reflected from the glass sides, creating a good deal of warmth.

"I wanted to make a call, so I lifted him out. But he went right back in when I finished. The telephone company may have a problem.

It may have, indeed. By last report the peacock was still haunting the booth.

Kitty Clover KRINKLET POTATO CHIPS

they're less fragile
they're dippin' perfect

Kitty Clover KRINKLET potato chips were created for folks who happen to prefer a thicker, less fragile chip—one that holds its own in a thick dip. KRINKLET potato chips have a character all their own, but you can tell at a taste that they were made by Kitty Clover. Indeed, KRINKLET potato chips make a worthy addition to any snack tray—while they last. Try them this week.

Lincoln-Omaha Congress District Proposed

Alan L. Clem, a former Nebraskan long active in government work, has proposed a congressional district reorganization plan which would place Lincoln and Omaha in the same district.

The proposal was contained in a letter to Governor-elect Frank Morrison.

Clem is presently an assistant professor of government at South Dakota University in Vermillion.

Clem wrote Morrison that he "started with the premise that the Omaha district should be weighted by counties whose voting traditions tend to balance Omaha's party predominance."

Omaha is currently predominantly Democratic.

The Lincoln-Omaha district — which would also contain Saunders, Sarpy, Cass and Otoe Counties — is designed to join both metropolitan areas, Clem said.

It is tentatively called the First District.

Clem has organized corn, hog and cattle counties in the Second District, and cash grain and range counties in the Third.

The Third District would cut through Nebraska on a north-south line just east of Grand Island, and contain all counties to the west.

The Second District would contain eastern Nebraska (except the metropolitan First), including Norfolk and Fremont.

Estimated population of the districts: First, 480,000; Second, 450,000, and Third, 440,000.

Standards

Redistricting, Clem suggested, should meet reasonable standards of equal population; a compact and contiguous geographical area, and similarity of economic interests.

The redistricting "should be drawn up so as not to attract accusations of gerrymandering," he said.

"Relative party power should be little, if any, different from the pattern of past decades as the result of this proposed revision."

Clem, a 1950 graduate of the University of Nebraska, is former information officer of the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

He formerly served on the staffs of Republican Sen. Carl Curtis, and former GOP Rep. Robert Harrison.

$8 Million Jet Goes Boom; Crew Escapes

Moses Lake, Wash. (AP)—An $8 million B52 jet bomber, crippled in an aerial refueling accident, exploded and burned after an emergency landing. The 10 crewmen escaped. Only one was injured.

The bomber's left wing, punctured by the refueling boom of a KC135 jet tanker, collapsed as the 8-jet B52 rolled down the runway at Larson Air Force Base. Crewmen scrambled out as crash crews rushed to their aid and the flames destroyed the bomber.

Officer's Suit For $25,000 Is Dismissed

A $25,383.45 suit brought by a Lincoln Police Officer against the driver of a car which was involved in a collision with the officer's motorcycle was dismissed Thursday by Lancaster District Judge Harry Ankeny.

Judge Ankeny ruled that the officer, Robert E. Edmunds of 5200 Randolph, had himself been guilty of negligence in that he failed to maintain a proper lookout. The judge's action came in response to a motion for dismissal made by attorneys for the defendant, Roy C. Ripley of 2644 P, at the conclusion of a 3-day jury trial.

The judge also dismissed a counter claim for $473.10 which Ripley had filed against Edmunds for damage done to Ripley's car in the accident.

Public Christmas Party At Capitol Set For Sunday

The annual public Christmas party in the rotunda of the state capitol will begin Sunday at 7:30 p.m., James Delehant, building superintendent, said Thursday.

The capitol Christmas tree — a 20-footer donated by the Lincoln Junior Chamber of Commerce — was already in place Thursday, as was the platform from which group singing of Christmas carols will be directed.

Gov. Dwight Burney will officially switch on the Christmas tree lights during the party, and will deliver a short message.

Delehant said 400 to 500 persons are expected to attend. Some 300 chairs are ready to be set up in the rotunda.

The tree will be decorated by the womens group of the Junior Chamber.

The annual Christmas party for statehouse employes will be held Tuesday afternoon, Dec. 20. It will also include group singing of Christmas carols.

FIRST BRITISH SATELLITE TRY SET IN YEAR

Washington (AP) — The first British space satellite will be launched "in about one year" from a United States site and will be powered by an American Scout rocket, it was announced.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said plans are to loft a spherical, two-foot diameter satellite from NASA's Wallops Island, Va. station into orbit "which will carry it over the United Kingdom."

NASA said scientists from the two nations recently completed a series of meetings regarding experiments to be tried in the satellite.

The nature of the experiments, to be prepared by British scientists, was not announced.

Sen. Mike Mansfield Wants Senate Reins

Washington (AP)—Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., indicated after a conference with President-elect John F. Kennedy that he would be glad to become Senate majority leader in the new Congress.

The Montanan, who lunched with the President-elect at his Georgetown home, is expected to move up in the leadership post from the job of Democratic whip which he has held for 4 years.

Russell Joins Mass Protest Against Subs

London (UPI)—Philosopher Bertrand Russell announced he will join a mass civil disobedience campaign against U.S. Polaris-equipped submarine bases in Britain Feb. 18.

Russell said he would take part in the 4-hour sitdown outside the defense ministry and would be willing to go to jail if arrested.

Ike's Health Is Reported 'Excellent'

. . . After Checkup

Washington (UPI) — President Eisenhower is in "excellent" health as he prepares to leave the White House next month, physicians reported Thursday after completing his annual physical examination.

The 70-year-old President, oldest man ever to serve as chief executive, has even shown improvement in his chronic bronchitis and the bursitis in his left shoulder since his last checkup in October, 1959, the doctors said.

The report was issued by Maj. Gen. Howard Snyder, the President's personal physician, and Lt. Gen. Leonard Heaton, Army surgeon general, about an hour after Eisenhower left Walter Reed Army Medical Center declaring he felt "pretty good, fine."

In their report, the physicians said:

"The President's general condition continues excellent as revealed by appropriate barium studies of the gastro-intestinal tract, studies of the cardio-vascular system, examinations of other special systems and various laboratory tests.

Bronchitis Improved

"The chronic bronchitis noted at the last annual examination has shown improvement, as has the bursitis of the left shoulder."

The White House said the President does not suffer constantly from bronchitis but is subject to recurring attacks. Bronchitis symptoms are similar to those of a heavy cold.

The President entered the hospital Tuesday night to complete the final head-to-toe checkup he will receive before leaving the White House Jan. 20. He was pronounced in "continued excellent" health following the first tests Sept. 15-16.

Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said the 3-month delay in completing the tests was due to the fact that Eisenhower had been fairly busy since the pre-election examination.

3 Major Illnesses

The President suffered 3 major illnesses during his 8 years in office. They were a 1955 heart attack, a 1956 ileitis operation and a mild stroke in 1957.

The physicians' statements indicated they had checked to see whether any of these had left damaging after effects on bodily functions.

In the barium study of the intestinal tract, the patient swallows a fluid containing barium and the doctors use special equipment to trace its course through the body.

As he left the hospital, the President was bundled up in a gray topcoat, fedora and blue scarf to protect him against near-freezing temperatures.

November Labor Demand Declines

Employment opportunities in the Lincoln metropolitan area declined during November, according to the State Labor Department division of employment security.

The division said the major changes appeared in agriculture and construction because of winter cutbacks of outdoor work.

Agricultural employment dropped 600 and construction employed 150 less men.

Labor demand declined in Seward and Saline Counties with noticeable decreases in agriculture and manufacturing.

New Unit For Women Voters

The most recently-organized study unit of the League of Women Voters of Lincoln is the Northeast Unit which met at the Eastborough home of Mrs. Edgar Pearlstein on Thursday morning.

The eighth neighborhood unit of the Lincoln League, the new group has over 20 members and, with the other units in town, is concluding the current study of local city government.

Town Talk

—That's what we're going to do—talk. We want to tell you about holiday guests who have arrived — and are arriving — about a party or two and such and things.

Thursday's arrivals were Mr. and Mrs. Veldon Lewis (Susie Swingle) of Arvada, Colo., and their daughter, Sally, who will be the holiday guests of Mrs. Lewis's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Swingle. Another son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne S. Morrison and their son, David, of Denver, will arrive next Wednesday for a holiday visit at the home of Mrs. Morrison's (Kathryn Swingle) parents.

—Yesterday was Christmas party day for the members of a bridge eightsome who were the luncheon guests of Mrs. Richard Knudsen at her home.

SUBURBIA

HOLLINGSWORTH HEIGHTS

Thursday evening, Mrs. Cleve Stauffer was hostess to the members of her bridge club at home. In addition to bridge, the evening's festivities included the exchange of Christmas gifts between "secret pals."

The members include Ann Granata, Eve Ashby, Eleanor Campbell, Nancy Delp, Claudia Overgaard, Madeline Fritz, and Jean Wiebeck. A guest at the party was Phyllis Chill.

On Monday, December 26, Mr. and Mrs. Don Wright will journey to Polk to visit at the home of Mrs. Wright's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Zeigelbein. Joining in the festivities will be Mrs. Wright's brother, Allen Zeigelbein, who teaches school in Curtis.

New Hollingsworth Heights residents to introduce this morning are Mr. and Mrs. John R. Stephenson and family. Formerly residing in Omaha, the family has moved into a new home at 2701 Austin Dr.

The Stephenson family includes John Jr., 16, and Mary, who is 13, who both attend Lincoln Southeast.

Mention of the Stephensons reminds us that they will spend the Christmas holidays visiting relatives in Hastings. They plan to leave Lincoln on Christmas Eve, returning on Sunday evening, December 25.

Other holiday travelers include Dr. and Mrs. M. R. Gelber who will spend Christmas at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Jerome Dosek, Mr. Dosek and sons. The Doseks, former Hollingsworth Heights and Lincoln residents, moved to Prairie Village, Kan., last May.

The approaching holidays were the incentive for a coffee given by Mrs. George Howard at her home last Tuesday morning. About 25 neighborhood ladies attended the event.

Family Features

Dear Abby—
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: After living with this 300-pound walrus for nine years I am almost ready to call it quits. He refuses to have anything but a double bed. I mentioned twin beds to him once and he put his fist through the screen door.

His side of the bed is swayback, like a regular hammock. My side is all right, but I keep rolling over on his side. My back aches so bad in the daytime I can hardly stand it. I know it's from that broken-down mattress. A new one wouldn't help because he'd break it down in no time. How do I get twin beds without causing the first divorce in my family? It's not the money. We can afford it.

ACHING BACK

DEAR ACHING: Haven't you ever heard of a king-sized bed, featuring a single headboard and two separate mattresses? Go shopping, lady. The furniture people have news for you.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: My wife has to have a cigarette in her hand every minute or she's not happy. Worse yet, she's careless and we have cigarette burns in all our furniture. She is alway "missing" the ash tray. I could bring home the Grand Canyon for an ash tray and she's miss that. When we go to visit friends, the hostess doesn't like to take her eyes off my wife for fear she'll burn the furniture. Can you say a few words in your column to let the missus know I love her and hate to nag but oh, how I wish she'd quit smoking! She's not kissable any more.

DISCOURAGED

DEAR DISCOURAGED: You've said it all. See that "the missus" doesn't miss this column.

DEAR ABBY: Last week we moved into a new home and I've been working like a horse to get it in order. Yesterday I was down in the basement uncrating boxes when my doorbell rang. I couldn't have looked worse. In came five of my friends, all painted, powdered, hatted and gloved.

I was annoyed and had all I could do to hide it. I had to stop my work and fix coffee and visit with them all afternoon. When I asked why they didn't give me a little time to bathe and comb my hair, they said, "We didn't want you to go to any bother." Is it considered good manners to surprise a hostess this way or not?

SURPRISED AND ANNOYED

DEAR SURPRISED: I am surprised at the number of people who "surprise" hostesses with social calls. It's very poor manners.

☆ ☆ ☆

CONFIDENTIAL TO "SO IN LOVE": He may mean it when he says he loves you, but that doesn't mean he intends to leave his wife.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: A couple of years ago I fell in with the wrong crowd. They were very wild had had bad reputations. After I realized what kind of girls I was involved with, I stopped going with them. Then I tried to make new friends and found out nice girls didn't want anything to do with me. That was over a year ago and they still won't accept me. What can I do to get my name off the "bad girl" list? I tried being the "wholesome type" (I went without makeup for a whole week) and I tried being the witty, life-of-the-party type. I've tried being the quiet, polite type, but nothing has changed. I am desperate for friends.

REFORMED

DEAR REFORMED: If you have really reformed . . . try being youself.

ASK—
Dorothy Draper

A reader has asked for suggestions for decorating a mantel for Christmas. Perhaps you would like to hear what I do with mine. I buy a roll of wide red metallic paper, make two giant loops out on either side, then crush in the center and wire it with fine flower wire. Then I take another long piece, cut the ends in the traditional ribbon "V," crush in the center and wire that to the other piece. This fills the top of the mantel, softened by carefully placed Christmas greens and silver and colored balls. The arrangement, simple to do, has an elegant and festive effect.

If you have a pine paneled room nothing is prettier than a laurel or pine garland looped up over the fireplace. A row of red candles marching across the mantel make any guest glad that he stopped by to exchange greetings.

A friend of mine who lives in the country is noted for her Della Robbia effect on her dining room mantle. She uses gourds and acorn squash as a base (less expensive) and then does a beautiful fruit mantel, using fresh pineapple with its spikey top as a high point. Purple and green grapes drape themselves gracefully over rosy-red apples and yellow grapefruit. Long-needled pine is tucked in between and the effect is most enchanting. The fruit isn't wasted because everybody has fun eating the "decoration" afterwards.

Children love to decorate and some of their holiday cut-outs are fascinating pieces of abstract art. Why not let them "do" a mantel with suggestions from you when necessary. Christmas is an "everybody" time!

A.D.N. asks:

"Our bedroom is of a fairly good size, with walls painted apple green, white ceiling. Furniture is Italian Provincial with twin beds. Could you help me out in selecting some colors for curtains, bedspreads (no dust ruffles) and scatter rugs. We also have a small boudoir chair which shall be re-upholstered. Would appreciate any suggestions you may have to offer, whether we should use solid colors or prints and where we should use them."

Dear A.D.N.:

I should think curtains and bedspread of a crisp chintz in a blue and purple floral pattern with green leaves on a white background would be most attractive with your apple green walls. Scatter rugs could be like the forest green of the leaves in the print or a blue-purple color. Boudoir chair could be in bright blue or bright green or a lemon-peel yellow. Have lots of white accessories and a spot of lemon-peel yellow in picture mats or flowers.

BRIDGE

QUIZ

You are the dealer, both sides vulnerable, and have opened One Heart. Partner has responded One Notrump. What would you now bid with each of the following four hands?

1. ♠KQ5 ♥AQ763 ♦AJ ♣Q74
2. ♠KJ6 ♥AKQ7652 ♦KJ ♣4
3. ♠4 ♥AK8653 ♦AK82 ♣K7
4. ♠K6 ♥KQ7643 ♦AK64 ♣9

1. Two notrump. Partner's notrump response shows a balanced hand with 6 to 9 high-card points. Whether or not a game contract is feasible therefore depends upon the quality of the notrump response. The best way to find out is to bid two notrump and thus invite patner to continue on to game if he has the top values for his notrump response.

In general, in this sequence, a two notrump rebid by the opener identifies 17 to 19 points. The responder proceeds to game if he has 8 or 9 points, and generally passes if he has only 6 or 7.

2. Four hearts. No risk should be run of playing at less than game. A jump to three hearts, while it would urge partner to bid again, is not forcing, and figures to be passed about a third of the time. So little is needed for ten tricks to be made — for example, the queen of spades and queen of diamonds — that partner should not be given the option of passing.

3. Three hearts. Here, with a heart suit that is much less self-sufficient, partner has to be consulted about the advisability of undertaking a game contract. We should be willing to give him the opportunity to pass if he lacks heart support or his notrump response was sketchy.

There are so many potential losers in this hand that we require a voluntary response from partner before committing the hand to game. A jump shift to three diamonds would force partner to bid again and should be avoided. We cannot be sure that a game is in the cards.

4. Two diamonds. This hand is essentially the same as the previous one, except that the queen of hearts has been substituted for the ace. Obviously, the hand is much weaker and game prospects decline proportionately.

Nevertheless, game is not out of the question, and the problem now is to reach it if it is there. A two diamond bid best serves the purpose. If partner passes, it is unlikely that a sound game contract will be missed. The pass would indicate not only a minimum hand but also lack of support for hearts.

If partner, over two diamonds, bids two hearts, which is just what we want to hear, game prospects pick up and a leap to four would be acceptable.

Pre-Holiday Party

In this busy holiday social season the pace has quickened with many organizations entertaining at Christmas coffees and teas. One pre-Christmas tea was given yesterday afternoon by the Delta Gamma Mothers, whose guests included the presidents of all the campus mothers clubs, presidents of sorority alumnae clubs, University officials, and the housemothers on the campus.

Candlelight Wedding

The marriage of Miss Zola Maude Runyan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Miller Runyan of Ong, and Edward Lyle Hestermann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hestermann of Adams, took place on Sunday evening, Dec. 11, at the Ong Methodist Church. The Rev. Delwin Roper read the lines of the service.

Miss Bonnie Lewien was the maid of honor, and the bridesmaid was Miss Carolyn Runyan, both of Ong.

Serving as best man was Glenn Hestermann of Adams, and the ushers were James Hestermann, Adams; Wesley Alm and Stanley Alm, Lincoln.

The bride wore for her wedding a gown of white Chantilly lace and tulle. The scalloped neckline of the bodice was highlighted with pearls and sequins, and appliques of the lace trimmed the full skirt of tulle. Her illusion veil was held by a queen's crown of pearls, and she carried an arrangement of carnations.

Sports thrillers!

Games in basketball last week were so exciting! Friday, Pius X Thunderbolts captured the season's opener with a 49-39 victory over Seward Concordia. Coach Jim Kubacki's work with the team proved successful. Joe Gaughan led the scoring with 17 points, followed with 15 points by Larry Champoux. Leading rebounders were Larry Champoux and Larry Arth.

The Bolts fought hard against the Blue Hawks of St. Cecilia Hastings last Saturday, although the final score was 42-39 in favor of the Hawks. Joe Gaughan led the Bolts with 10 points and Larry Champoux, Tom Neal, Steve Creal, Joel Kortus, and Dave Minnick were close behind.

Matmen meet! Pius wrestlers, coached by Clancy Woolman, were victorious over Seward Concordia with a 32-15 score. The outstanding matmen were Mark Merwick, Dave Zweig, John Sweeney, and Dennis Hartz. Other wins went to Jim Phillips, Otto Manulak, and Bob Cunningham.

The inter-city bouts held at Northeast were entered by Bill Harding, Ron Champoux, Jim Weber, Mike Prokop, Joe Schroer, Bill Tracy, and Steve Lukas.

The annual Pius X Christmas Cantata, ushering in the Christmas season, will be given Wednesday, December 21. Glee Club and drama students will relate the age-old story of the Nativity in song and story. Seniors Sue Mitchell and Tom Schwenke will play the leading roles. Paul Dolan, Terry Connelly, Jeanette Byrne, Rex Mudd, John Curran, Steve Creal, and John Lonnquist will portray Biblical characters. Shepherds include Verne Felton, Jim Ganser, Bob Schneider, and Richard Pollard. Caryol Mahoney, Mary Ralston, Mary Anderson, Mary Jo Kalin, Marsha Kosch, Mary Morrow, Sue Smith, and Mary DeVaney will complete the scene as adoring angels. Other characters include Jean Kezeor, Pat Fitzpatrick, Doug Barrett, Dennis Koziol, Bob Hausner, Peter Vuchetich, Bob Kerr, and Larry Navratil.

Xmas Season Soon!

The sophomores, under the direction of Father B. E. Kalin, superintendent, have erected a nativity scene at the south end of the football field. The crib committee, under chairmanship of LaVonne Lange, consisted of Jim Ganser, Verne Felton, Kathy Glynn, Marsha Johnson, Mike Laughlin, Mary Jane Beals, Tim Murphy, Linda Spaulding, Bob Schneider, Mary Ann Noha, Pat Fitzpatrick, and Joe Schroer.

From Our Christmas Kitchen

Take a pretty plate, some delicious fudge made the easy way (it takes all of five minutes), and demitasse cups of coffee. It adds up to an attractive and delicious dessert that is destined to please.

Candy has long been lauded at Christmas time, especially those delectable homemade delicacies. Fortunately, candy making methods have kept pace with the times, and today "old fashioned" confections can be fitted into the "quick and easy" trend. By using the evaporated milk method developed by home economists only five minutes cooking time is needed to make fudge. The fudge is always creamy and smooth textured, thanks to the blending qualities of this concentrated form of milk.

On hectic days preceding Christmas, serve a plateful of fudge or nut clusters for dessert; package some pieces attractively for those almost-forgotten gifts remembered at the last minute; of course, keep plenty on hand to pass to visitors.

COCONUT-HONEY FUDGE
(Makes about 2 pounds)

2 tablespoons honey
1½ cups shredded coconut
⅔ cup (small can) undiluted evaporated milk
1⅔ cups sugar
½ teaspoon salt
1½ cups (16 medium) diced marshmallows
1½ cups (1½ 6-ounce packages) semi-sweet chocolate pieces
1 teaspoon vanilla

Combine honey and 1 cup coconut; blend. Spread on bottom of buttered 8-inch square pan. Mix evaporated milk, sugar and salt in saucepan over low heat. Heat to boiling, then cook 5 minutes, stirring constantly. Remove from heat.

Add marshmallows, chocolate pieces and vanilla. Stir 1-2 minutes (until marshmallows melt). Pour into pan over coconut mixture. Sprinkle with remaining ½ cup coconut.

PECAN PEANUT ORANGE CLUSTERS
(Makes about 3½ dozen)

2 cups firmly-packed light brown sugar
⅔ cup (small can) undiluted evaporated milk
¾ teaspoon orange extract
½ cup peanut butter
1½ cups chopped pecans

Mix sugar and evaporated milk thoroughly in a 2-quart saucepan. Bring to a rolling boil over high heat. Reduce heat to medium. Boil for 5 minutes, stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Add orange extract, peanut butter and pecans. Beat until well mixed. Drop candy rapidly from a teaspoon onto a buttered cookie sheet. Cool.

QUICK CHOCOLATE COATED POPCORN

½ cup light or dark corn syrup
1 6-ounce package semi-sweet chocolate pieces
5 cups popped corn

Place corn syrup and chocolate pieces in top of a double boiler and heat over hot water until chocolate is melted; stir to blend well. Pour over popped corn, stir until corn is coated with mixture. Spread onto waxed paper and separate into clusters.

Yuletide Cupcakes

(24 cakes)

¾ pound candied mixed fruits
1 cup coarsely broken walnuts
2 cups sifted all purpose flour
½ teaspoon nutmeg
¾ cup butter
1 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
3 egg yolks, beaten
1 cup eggnog
2 teaspoons rum flavoring
3 egg whites
½ teaspoon cream of tartar

GLAZE

¼ cup white corn sirup
2 tablespoons water
1 tablespoon pineapple juice

Combine mixed fruits and walnuts. Sift together flour and nutmeg. Then mix ¼ cup flour with fruit mixture. Cream butter and sugar until light and fluffy. Add egg yolks; beat until well mixed. Conbine egg nog and rum flavoring. Add alternately with remaining flour to creamed mixture. Fold in fruit mixture; mix well. Beat egg whites until frothy; add cream of tartar. Beat until egg whites stand in stiff peaks. Fold into batter. Place 2½ inch paper baking cups in muffin pans. Fill ¾ full with batter. Bake at 300 degrees for 50-55 minutes. Cool. Brush glaze lightly over cakes. Decorate with candied fruit and toasted whole almonds.

To make glaze, combine corn sirup, water and pineapple juice. Bring to a boil and boil 1 minute.

Everybody Loves Cake

No one, cake lover or not, will be able to resist this delectable coconut layer cake. True, there isn't anything particularly new about a coconut layer cake, but this one is different. It is a SPICED coconut cake.

SPICED COCONUT LAYER CAKE

2 cups sifted all-purpose flour.
3 teaspoons double-acting baking powder.
2-3 cup shortening.
½ teaspoon ground mace.
1½ cups sugar.
¼ teaspoon pure almond extract.
3 eggs.
2-3 cup milk.
Spiced Comfort Frosting.

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Set aside to use later. Mix shortening with mace. Gradually blend in sugar and pure almond extract. Beat in eggs, one at a time. Add flour mixture alternately with milk, beginning and ending with flour. Turn into 2 well-greased, lightly floured 9-inch round cake pans. Bake in a preheated moderate oven (375 F) 25 to 30 minutes. Cool in pan 10 minutes. Turn out onto a wire rack to finish cooling. Spread Spiced Comfort Frosting and coconut between cake layers and over top and sides.

YIELD: One 9-inch layer cake.

SPICED COMFORT FROSTING

1½ cups sugar.
½ cup water.
1 tablespoon light corn syrup.
¼ teaspoon cream of tartar.
2 egg whites.
¼ teaspoon ground mace.
1 teaspoon pure vanilla extract.

Combine sugar, water and corn syrup. Stir and cook over low heat until sugar is dissolved. Boil, covered 3 minutes. Then, boil uncovered, and without stirring until a firm ball forms when dropped in cold water (250 F.). Remove syrup from heat Quickly add salt and cream of tarter to egg whites and beat until they stand in stiff peaks. Gradually beat in hot sugar syrup. Beat in mace and pure vanilla extract. Continue beating until mixture is of spreading consistency and stands in peaks.

YIELD: Sufficient frosting for tops and sides of two 9-inch layers.

$7.5 Million In State Road Work Scheduled

Bids were opened Thursday on an estimated $7,500,000 in Nebraska highway construction projects which should push the state to a record for road-building this year.

Apparent low bidders on the projects will be announced Friday.

Bids received Thursday should boost total construction contracted for this year to over $43 million, according to acting state engineer John Hossack.

The State Department of Roads has already awarded construction contracts for $36,070,340 for the first 11 months of 1960, topping the total of $32,328,082 awarded in 1959.

The previous high for contracts awarded in one year was $40,656,171 in 1958.

Interstate Speed Up

Already this year contracts have been awarded totaling $15,198,634 for Interstate construction.

With Thursday's bid-opening, Hossack said this figure should reach more than $20 million, double the amount for any previous year.

Interstate contract totals listed by the department for previous years were $5,770,154 in 1957; $9,030,896 in 1958, and $8,197,379 in 1959.

Three of the largest Interstate projects for 1960 are included in Thursday's bid opening.

$2.4 Million Project

The department estimated construction on 1.7 miles of the Interstate between Frederick Street and Dewey Avenue in Omaha will cost $2,493,216.

This includes grading, pavement, culverts, 4 bridges, guard rail, fence, traffic signal system and a highway lighting system.

The department put a $1,713,979 estimate on 0.3 of a mile of the Interstate near 31st Street and Grover Street in Omaha.

This job includes grading, pavement, culverts, 5 bridges and fence.

The department estimated cost on the 0.4-mile Interstate segment south of Grand Island in Hall County at $1,032,271. This includes grading, pavement, culverts, two bridges, guard rail and fence.

Other Interstate projects are two bridges between 72nd Street and 60th Street near Omaha at an estimated $273,999 and grading and culverts between 72nd Street and 60th Street at an estimated $102,158.

Bids for the 0.7-mile job calling for grading culvert work were rejected at the Aug. 25 letting because the bids were too high.

Estimated source of funds for Thursday's bid-opening: Federal aid Interstate funds, $4,825,000; federal aid primary funds, $310,000; federal aid secondary funds, $400,000; county funds, $25,000; state construction funds, $1,915,000, and state maintenance funds, $25,000.

New Kearney Beer License Is Approved

A retail beer license for both on and off sale was approved for Hill-Top Lanes in Kearney Thursday by the Nebraska Liquor Control Commission.

The issuance was made after two public hearings before the commission. At one of them, the commission was handed petitions purporting to carry signatures of 3,436 legal voters who were protesting the issuance of the license.

The Kearney City Council, however, recommended issuance of the license.

The license was issued to the Triangle Corp., which operates the 16-lane bowling alley.

R. F. Hollinger, Hill-Top manager, said at the hearing that physical changes were contemplated in the building to provide full control over beer sales and drinkers.

He said no beer would be sold while Junior League Bowling is in progress, and beer sales on Sunday are outlawed by the city.

Alvin Brown, former city councilman and part owner of the lanes, said the intention is to sell beer only by the bottle, largely "to accommodate the bowlers."

Among the protestors were Bernard Stutheit, dean of students at Kearney State Teachers College. He said beer drinking among minor students has been a problem and sales at the alley "would offer increased inducements . . . and opportunities to violate the law."

Broadway Classroom

New York (AP)—Broadway's new drama about Washington politics, "Advise and Consent," is seeking a school audience. Arrangements are being made for class groups in English, civics and drama, to attend performances. The producers, a spokesman explains, "feel the play, the words and the workings of the Senate as displayed in the play should prove interesting and enlightening to students."

United Gets Permission To Boost Credit Total

The Nebraska Railway Commission Thursday granted United Air Lines, Inc., of Chicago permission to boost the total amount of its credit agreement with the First National City Bank of New York.

The request will enable the airline to increase the amount borrowed to $165 million from $130 million which earlier was approved by the commission.

The commission also granted United permission to issue shares of common stock in payment of a 3 per cent stock dividend and to issue its shares of common stock previously reserved for key management personnel under a restricted stock option plan.

All 3 requests were accompanied by requests to disclaim jurisdiction over the matters.

The commission said it had jurisdiction as it said on United's last application.

The commission has authority over certain financial matters of companies operating intrastate commerce except where federal control is present.

In this case, there was no federal authority.

The Lincoln-Omaha run is United's only intrastate service in Nebraska.

The railway commission also granted the Union Pacific Railroad authority to discontinue agency service and to close its station at Rogers.

The commission set Jan. 13 for a hearing in the court house at Hebron on application of the American Communication Co., Inc., of Belleville for a rate increase.

The company wants to raise its rates at Chester, Riverton, Hubbell, Reynolds and Byron to allow itself a reasonable rate of return on its service to the area.

Other commission action:

—Set hearings Jan. 6 in the State Capitol for oral argument on motion for rehearing for authority of some Eddyville citizens to be released from the Eddyville, Consad and Oconto exchange area.

The commission has denied the Eddyville citizens authority to be switched from the Eddyville, Consad and Oconto areas to the Lexington exchange area.

—Granted authority to Farmers Telephone Co. of Dodge County, North Bend to discontinue optional service rate of 50 cents per month.

—Granted taxicab rate increase to city of Gothenburg. The old rates were 45 cents for people in the city up to 18th Street and 50 cents within the city limits beyond 18th.

The new rate abolishes the split of the city and establishes a flat rate within the city limits up to two miles with a 10-cent charge for every half mile after that.

—Overruled a motion for rehearing and reconsideration of Lee Wall doing business as Superior-Lincoln wage of Scommission had ordered Wall to compensate 10 employes to Western which Wall wanted to drop.

—Granted authority to American Trucking Association Inc., to make the national regulations on motor carriers' explosives and dangerous articles applicable to Nebraska interstate traffic effective Jan. 1.

DEPT. OF EDUCATION ISSUES CHALLENGE TO HIGH SCHOOLS

The State Department of Education has issued a challenge to Nebraska high schools to teach students about a subject oftentimes forgotten in the academic whirl — the subject of education itself.

The department has recently mailed to the approximately 500 high schools in the state a pamphlet entitled, "Our Schools and Why They Are Important."

The pamphlet was prepared by George E. Rotter, curriculum coordinator, and Jerald L. Reece, consultant in school administration.

Rotter said the pamphlet was issued to provide teachers with guidelines in instructing students on the value of education.

He said the best place to study education at the high school level was in the senior American problems class, a widely taught course in Nebraska dealing with varied subjects.

In a preface to the pamphlet, State Commissioner of Education Freeman Decker said citizens would appreciate better the values of education, the function and problems of schools and the strengths and weaknesses of the educational system if they study education in their school years.

"Not infrequently do we school people bemoan and criticize the attitude of lay people toward our schools," Decker said. "But we, as teachers, must share the responsibility for the improvement of this attitude because most of our citizens are the products of our schools."

Decker said schools generally never miss giving instruction concerning institutions like police departments, fire departments, the courts and local state and national government.

"Observations would indicate, however, that very few schools make a concerted effort to offer their students a reasonably mature study of education," he said.

Included in the pamphlet are guides for discussion on the purposes of education, how public education is organized and financed, effectiveness of schools and how schools can be improved.

After each subject is a suggested list of readings for further analysis.

Rotter said the department has received favorable reaction from some high school teachers already on the pamphlet, but he said it was still too early to evaluate its effectiveness.

School Improvement Assn. Tells Expenses

The Nebraska School Improvement Assn. reported receiving $13,918 and spending $13,807 in support of the proposed constitutional amendment to elect a state commissioner of education which was defeated in the Nov. 8 election.

The defeated proposal called for abolishment of the State Board of Education and the commissioner appointed by it.

S. H. Brauer Jr., treasurer of NSIA, submitted the contribution and expense statement to the secretary of state's office.

Avoca Town Hall Jammed For First Missile-Site Meeting

By Gene Budig

Avoca — Most of Avoca's 200 residents jammed the town hall Thursday night to hear about their future with the men in blue.

On the informative end of things was Col. Thomas G. Corbin, 818th Air Division Commander at the Lincoln Air Force Base.

Corbin, flanked by a team of ballistic missile experts, is touring the 12 Atlas missile base sites in the Lincoln area.

'Needed Strength'

Corbin said that the two Avoca area missile sites — one 4 miles west and the other 4 miles east — give needed strength to America's defensive armor.

"Today," the Strategic Air Command division commander told the attentive group, "we face an enemy tremendously more dangerous to our way of life than we did in the 1940s — an enemy dedicated to our annihilation."

Sternly, the Lincoln officer reminded that for the first time in history, a potential enemy has the capability to launch direct attack against the U.S. mainland.

Corbin said that such an offensive could be launched within minutes.

"To counter this threat, the Strategic Air Command has maintained for more than a decade, a combat-ready alert system which provides us with an instantly ready retaliatory force capable of destroying an enemy's war-making capability, and making it totally unprofitable, if not suicidal, to attack us."

He said that Nebraska's ballistic missile sites will take their place beside the manned jet bombers in giving the country necessary security.

His comments drew frequent applause.

The economic aspect of the missile project was touched on by Frederick J. Childress of Convair-Astronautics.

Childress said that at the peak of construction, the monthly payroll for the combined agencies will run about "one and three-quarters million dollars."

The Convair payroll will run about three-quarters of a million, he added.

Childress said there will be a gradual buildup of civilian personnel which will reach a peak in mid-1961 of almost 2,600 families.

"About 1,000 of these families will be re-located into the Lincoln and southern Nebraska area, and many will be looking for houses to rent in the towns close to the silos," he said.

The Convair official drew scattered cheers when he said that it is his concern's policy to hire locally as many qualified people as possible.

Present forecasts, he said, call for the hiring of some 5 to 6 hundred area people between March and August of 1961.

To facilitate hiring, Convair-Astronautics will open an employment office sometime in March and will have a representative travel from town to town to interview applicants.

Missile Site Accident Brings $25,000 Suit

Leroy Greenwald filed a $25,000 damage suit Thursday in Lancaster District Court against the Beatrice Concrete Co.

Greenwald alleges he was injured Apr. 18 when a truck owned by Beatrice Concrete backed into a concrete bucket against his knee. The incident occurred at a missile site near Ellis.

John Olney Will Ask For Parole

John Olney, 20, Lincoln, will appear to the State Board of Pardons and Paroles next month for parole from the Men's Reformatory.

He was sentenced to a one to two-year term in April, 1959, on a motor vehicle homicide charge in connection with the death Oct. 6, 1958, of Constance Lane, 17, Lincoln.

Atty. Robert Crosby appeared before the board in January.

If Olney were paroled, Crosby said, the youth would be able to enroll in college in February.

World Service Workshop Set For Y Leaders

YMCA staff members and laymen from Lincoln and 4 other cities will attend a World Service Workshop at Lincoln's central Y Friday.

Elmer Magee of Lincoln will preside over the Workshop, which is aimed at acquainting Y men with current work of the world service program of technical and financial aid to foreign Y organizations. The program is sponsored by Y's in the United States and Canada.

Magee said particular emphasis would be placed on Y work in Africa.

Guest speaker will be Emory Nelson of New York, representing the International Committee of World Alliance, which directs the service program.

Insurance Co. Picks Waugh As Director

New York — Samuel C. Waugh of Lincoln has been named a director of Genera Reinsurance Corp., it was announced here Thursday.

Waugh

The announcement was made by James A. Cathcart Jr., chairman of the board and chief executive officer.

Waugh has been president of the Export-Import Bank of Washington since his presidential appointment in 1955.

On Leave

He is presently on leave as director of The First Trust Co., of Lincoln and director of the Citizens State Bank of Lincoln.

Waugh joined The First Trust Co. in 1913 and served as its president from 1946 to 1953.

Waugh was deputy undersecretary of state in 1955.

He served as U.S. alternate governor to the International Monetary Fund and International Bank for Reconstruction and Development from 1953 to 1955.

With Nixon

In 1958, Waugh accompanied Vice President Richard Nixon on his visit to South America, serving as a special ambassador.

Waugh was appointed to his present governmental post by President Eisenhower. His term of office expires along with that of the President on Jan. 20.

A spokesman at the Export-Import Bank said he did not know Waugh's future plans.

Cortland Meeting Set Saturday

Other visits at the 12 Atlas missile base sites in the Lincoln area have not been officially scheduled.

Suit Asks $25,000 For Traffic Injuries

Mrs. Clara Wasseniller of 7118 Platte filed a $25,000 damage suit Thursday in Lancaster District Court against Robert C. Collier of 6835 Adams.

Mrs. Wassenmiller alleged she was injured Oct. 14 when she was struck by a car driven by Collier at 70th and Havelock.

Rockets-LHS In Top Game

. . . BIG 10 BILLED ALSO

By Al Beebe

Important tests are on tap for several of the state's prep teams this weekend, including the 3 Lincoln public schools.

Lincoln High and Lincoln Northeast clash in the big one, while Lincoln Southeast has a Saturday date at defending state champ Omaha South.

On the state scene, Kearney goes west to open its Big 10 campaign at Scottsbluff and Alliance. Unbeaten North Platte is at Hastings. Boys Town goes to Omaha Tech.

Results of these games should begin to determine the best teams in the state this year.

Last week's prediction tally was 15-5, making a 31-9 — .775 mark for the season. This week:

Northeast vs Lincoln High (PSA) — Links learned they could win without Gary Haas last week. NE also learned it can win, and play well. Rockets to cop this one.

University High at Omaha Cathedral — Both teams looking for a first win. Cathedral should get it.

Southeast at Omaha South (Saturday) —Knights will begin to improve, but the outcome of this game won't show it. South is still tough.

Tecumseh at Auburn, Aurora at York, Beatrice at Seward, Broken Bow at Cozad, Columbus at Crete, Falls City at Nebraska City, Grand Island at Fremont, Holdrege at Gothenburg, Kearney at Scottsbluff, McCook at Sidney, Omaha Central at Creighton Prep.

Saturday — Kearney at Alliance, Boys Town at Omaha Tech, Fairbury at Crete, Lexington at Grand Island, Ashland at University High.

Don Faurot Wants Both Sides Shown

Columbia, Mo. (UPI)—Missouri university's athletic director, Don Faurot, said Thursday that if Kansas wants to try the Bert Coan case "in the press before the public, it should show both sides."

Faurot, commenting on charges by Kansas University that Missouri violated Big Eight Conference rules in connection with the case, said Kansas should show both the viewpoints of the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. (NCAA) and of Kansas.

Kansas Wednesday unleashed an angry attack at the NCAA and the Big Eight for declaring football player Coan illegally recruited from Texas Christian University.

Arthur W. Nebel, Big Eight faculty representative at Missouri and head of the Missouri graduate school of social work, said "the Big Eight decision stands." He declined further comment.

CINCY'S TOP CANDIDATE

Cincinnati's top candidate for all-America honors, now that Oscar Robertson is gone, is 6-9 junior Paul Hogue. He was the No. 2 rebounder and No. 3 scorer last year, averaging 12.2 points. He'll be Nebraska's big problem in the game at Cincinnati Monday.

Ducks, Penn State Wind Up Workouts

. . . FOR LIBERTY BOWL SATURDAY

Philadelphia (AP)—Penn State and Oregon tapered off in preparation Thursday for their Liberty Bowl football game Saturday, each casting a wary eye at the sky.

State worked out on its campus field before leaving for Philadelphia. Oregon drilled at the 100,000 seat Philadelphia Stadium where emergency crews put the finishing touches on removing snow from the field and the stands.

Both State Coach Rip Engle and Oregon's Len Casanova pronounced their squads fit for this second annual bowl game. They each predict a close game and ask only for clear weather and a dry field.

The U.S. weather station here predicted snow turning to sleet and then rain for Thursday night, but says there will be no additional accumulation on the ground to the 16 inches of snow which fell last weekend.

Engle, whose team has been practicing on a frozen turf at University Park, Pa., feels his rugged line will be the key to a second straight Liberty Bowl victory for the Nittany Lions. State won the inaugural of this game 7-0 last year over Alabama.

"I'm convinced that our kids will rise to the occasion," he says. "There is nothing flashy or spectacular about our line, but you won't find boys any place who hit harder than these."

Actually, state fields two lines of fairly equal ability. There is little drop off in effectiveness when the so-called second unit is playing.

State's first line includes All East tackle Stew Barber, a 233-pound senior; center Jay Huffman, the Liberty Bowl's outstanding player last year; guard Bill Popp, end Bob Mitinger and 230-pound tackle, Jim Smith.

The State line will have its work cut out for it since Oregon brings East one of the nation's top ranking offensive teams. The Ducks gained 3,311 yards in 10 games for a 331.1 yard average.

Top offensive threats are quarterback Dave Grosz, who completed 57 of 141 passes for 404 yards and 7 touchdowns; Cleveland Jones, a 148-pound halfback, who caught 25 passes for 402 yards and 4 TDs, and halfback Dave Grayson averaging 5.4 yards on 117 carries.

POINT BLANK

By Don Bryant

Sports Editor, The Star

The Mail Bag

Opening the mail bag, while being very happy that Oklahoma decided to stay in the Big 8 so Nebraska will have someone to beat in football . . .

First batter is Harold F. Baker of Lincoln, who writes: "Thanks for your Point Blank column giving details of scouting reports and use of same. Most interesting to layman sports follower."

Roger Bottorff, general manager of the Lincoln Chiefs, pens this note on a Christmas card: "Many thanks to you and your sports staff for the fine coverage and confidence you displayed during the past year. The club is sincerely grateful, as am I personally."

Comment: The Chiefs are to be congratulated and admired for their persistent efforts to keep top-flight minor league baseball alive in Lincoln despite the many handicaps.

Different View

Next up is a KU "sympathizer" from Crete, who fires from the hip: "Why should KU accept its phony sentence with dignity The Jayhawks fell victim to a hatchet job engineered smoothly by the biggest hypocrit in college football, Don Faurot of Missouri. The original vote was 4-4 which should have ended matters once and for all. But somebody was determined Kansas had to be crucified. This is the price of success—you make too many enemies.

"As for your statement that KU should count its blessings, I can only say that if membership in a league which resorted to such bush league legislation is a 'blessing' then Kansas would be better off some place else. Here's hoping Navy clobbers our phony champions by 50 points."

Comment: Kansas should content itself with the knowledge that the Big 8 could have declared Bert Coan ineligible for all time, not just 5 games, and could have ordered forfeiture of all 1960 games—if the faculty men had lived up to the letter of the law instead of being extremely lenient. In regard to the 4-4 vote controversy, this apparently is the party line being pumped out of KU even though it may be inaccurate. While the faculty men don't reveal their votes, latest reports indicate there never was a tie on the question of punishing Kansas. Only deadlock came on the question of penalizing Coan, and it wasn't broken until the lightest possible sentence was suggested.

Author-prognosticator-All America selector Frances Wallace sends along a Christmas card which says: "Old Coach Santa Claus predicts the same Merry Xmas from one pigskin patron to another and a 'specially Happy New Year for Baylor, Arkansas, Penn State, Minnesota, Ole Miss, Missouri and Texas—for whom the bowls toil.' "

Finally, from Glen Miller and Carol Davis of the Chicago White Sox, comes this holiday greeting:

And all thru Sox Park . . .
Cause the Park was all dark—

That soon would be there—

The White Sox were nestled,
All snug in their beds . . .
While visions of World Series,
Danced in their heads—

In the shadows the Scoreboard,
Was silent and quiet
Awaiting a homer
To start a new riot—

The neighborhood wondered,
What was the matter—

The shrill sirens, too . . .
The Scoreboard erupted,
But way, way off cue—

It wasn't a homer,
By Sievers or Klu . . .
But just Season's Greetings
From the White Sox to you!

Okie Pair From Big 8 Take Bluebonnet Wins

. . . Texas Aggies, Houston Victims

Houston, Tex. (AP) — A pair of Big 8 Conference teams from Oklahoma took both ends of the first round of the Bluebonnet Bowl Doubleheader basketball tourney here Thursday night.

Oklahoma State nipped Texas A&M, 60-58 in overtime, and Oklahoma came back in the second game to knock off tough Houston, 55-51.

Dave Miller hit a long two-handed shot from the corner with only two seconds to play in overtime to give Oklahoma State a 60-58 victory.

With the score tied at 56-56, neither team took a shot the last 5 minutes and 49 seconds of regulation play and the game went into overtime.

A&M led 39-30 at half time but State outscored the Texas Aggies, 18-10, the first 10 minutes of the second half.

Fritz Greer led State with 22 points. Broussard led A&M with 15.

Oklahoma came from behind in the last 5 minutes to defeat Houston, 55-51, in the second game.

Oklahoma meets Texas A&M tonight, with Houston meeting Oklahoma State.

Houston led 49-47 with 5 minutes and 15 seconds left in the game with the Sooners but the Cougars did not get another basket until 21 seconds before the final gun.

Oklahoma meanwhile tied the score at 49-49 on a long set shot by George Kernek and took the lead on a pair of crip shots by Eddie Evans. Gary Phillips hit for Houston before Warren Fouts, a victim of goaltending by Houston, was awarded Oklahoma's final basket.

Kernek and Fouts each had 14 points for Oklahoma. Jack Thompson led Houston with 15. Phillips had 13.

Intense Desire Sparks Giants

. . . IN BIG GAME WITH BROWNS

New York (AP) — The New York Giants, drawing a bead on second place in the Eastern Conference of the National Football League, wound up their next-to-last day of heavy work Thursday for Sunday's crucial game here against the Cleveland Browns.

The Browns (7-3-1) are currently in second, a half game ahead of the Giants (6-3-2). Sunday's winner will play in the NFL's first Runnerup Bowl Jan. 7, meeting the second place team of the Western Conference in Miami's Orange Bowl.

But the sudden intensity the Giants seem to have undertaken in their drills, surrounded by mountains of snow along the gridiron of Yankee Stadium, has deeper roots, too.

For one, the game marks the last one as Giants Coach for Jim Lee Howell, who announced his retirement last February. The last, that is, unless the team wins and goes to Miami.

Then there is the 6 straight victories the Giants have scored over Coach Paul Brown's troops. They beat Cleveland 17-13 earlier this year and have not lost to the Browns since 1957. No one ever has had such a stranglehold on a Paul Brown-coached team.

Most of all, the Giants, to a man, want to beat Paul Brown, the coach. There are many reasons, most of them personal though none ever has played for Brown.

"We like to beat the Browns for we know when we play them, we play the best. And if you beat them then you beat the best," Howell said.

Some of the players show other reasons

Fullback Mel Triplett suffered a broken finger in last Sunday's 17-3 victory over Washington, but refused to have a splint applied. He said he was afraid he might not play against Cleveland, or that he might not be as effective.

"This'll wait until after the Cleveland Game," Triplett shrugged.

With the exception of halfback Frank Gifford and defensive tackle Jim Katcavage, both out for the year, the Giants are in good shape. Defensive back Dick Nolan, out with a shoulder separation for two games, is expected back. So is linebacker Cliff Livingston, who missed the Washington game.

Ollie Matson Likes Shift To Rams' Safety Position

Los Angeles (UPI)—A move born of desperation last weekend when Ollie Matson was shifted to the Los Angeles Rams' defensive unit worked so well that it will be repeated Saturday against Green Bay.

Matson, one of the National Football League's outstanding ground gainers, had not played defense since his first season with the then Chicago Cardinals. At that time he was called on briefly in an emergency to go both ways.

Coach Bob Waterfield of the Rams, seeking some means of shoring up the leaky Los Angeles pass defense, last week asked Matson if he would be willing to play defensive safety.

"I told Waterfield I just wanted to play," Matson said. "I was tired of sitting on the bench and wanted to get in anywhere."

After 5 days of practice as defensive safety, Matson took over the position against the Baltimore Colts and teammates credited his work with being a major factor in the 10-3 upset.

Assistant coach Jim David, who as a player was one of the best men on defense in the league, joined the Ram players in praising Matson's sure and vicious tackling and great pass defending.

"Ollie played the spot as defensive safety should be played," David added, "and it made a difference."

Waterfield and David agreed that Matson should be at defensive safety again when the Rams close out their season against the Packers and Matson expressed his pleasure.

"I liked the spot very much," he said. "It's a great thing to get out and hit somebody like they've been hitting you all these years."

Although Waterfield would not say that safety would be Matson's place with the Rams in the future, it loomed as a definite possibility although Matson still could be used in spot situations on offense when his speed and elusiveness was needed.

A former sprinter, Matson despite his 210 pounds, can still turn on the speed and it's that speed which played such a big part in his being converted to defense.

"You should see the films and judge how hard Matson was hitting," Waterfield said with awe in his voice. "He almost broke Baltimore end Ray Berry in half with his tackle."

Bill Nieder Is Warned To Quit Shot Putting

Washington (AP)—Olympic shotput champion Bill Nieder has been warned to quit the sport or risk permanent injury to his damaged knee, the Army Times said Thursday.

The injury is also forcing the beefy Nieder, who is a 1st Lieutenant in the infantry, out of the Army, the service publication said in a story by sportswriter George Marker.

Nieder, who bettered all existing shotput records with a toss of 65 feet 10 inches on his way to the Olympic championship, is stationed at the Presidio in San Francisco. He has requested a release from active duty, the Army Times said.

Army doctors at the Presidio have diagnosed his ailment as a form of arthritis and told Nieder the knee will fuse into a stiff joint unless he stops putting the shot, wrote Marker.

Nieder first hurt his knee playing football for Kansas University and has generally kept it heavily taped and braced when competing in the shot.

—NEBRASKA HUNTING SHOWING LULL—

Many Birds, Few Hunters

There were plenty of pheasants but only a few hunters in Nebraska last week, a spot check of State Game Commission conservation officers indicated.

Herman Schmidt, officer for the McCook area, gave this capsule summary of pheasant hunting activity there:

He said the birds are bunched up tight because of the snow blanket. The 600-plus birds were seen in the Beaver City-Hensley area.

Jack Kiburz and Bob Gash, McCook, and Schmidt got 25 birds in 3 days.

Other areas reported that pheasants were holing up after the ground was covered.

With 6 inches of snow on the ground, officer Cecil Avey, Crawford, reported improving hunting conditions in Sioux and Dawes Counties. He checked 7 hunters with 16 birds and all reported seeing many pheasants.

Officer Fred Salak of Grand Island said pheasant hunting also improved in his area. He said gunners had seen flocks of up to 50.

Only a few goose hunters were out along Lake McConaughy, according to officer Loron Bunney of Ogallala. But they were taking their birds at a steady clip. About 1,000 birds were on the lake and the refuge just west of it.

Officer Bill Bonsall of Alma said Harlan County hunters found conditions good for field chasing the reservoir flock. A few geese were also taken in Morrill County west of Lisco and west of Bridgeport.

Kowalke Scores At 16.9 Pace

The 6-3 workhorse is averaging 16.9 points per game with 67 points. He has hooped 24 of 59 field goal attempts and 19 of 23 free tosses.

Coach Jerry Bush's cagers meet Detroit Saturday and Cincinnati Monday. Both clubs are ranked among the nation's top 10.

Phillies-Bosox Swap Settles Pilot Hassle

. . . CONLEY, SULLIVAN IN INTER-LOOP EXCHANGE

Philadelphia, (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies in a swap of pitchers Thursday sent Gene Conley to the Boston Red Sox for Frank Sullivan, resolving a bitter player-manager dispute.

Conley, who plays for the Boston Celtics of the National Basketball Association during the winter, and Phillies manager Gene Mauch exchanged heated words two days before the end of last season.

Reportedly, Mauch, angered by a poor relief job by the 6 foot,, 8 inch Conley, said to the pitcher:

"What are you doing saving your best for (Red) Auerbach (Celtics coach)?

Quinn, however, insists the deal was not made because of personalities. He said the trade was made because the Phillies coveted Sullivan, 6-6 right hander who won 6 and lost 16 for the Red Sox a year ago.

Conley and the Phillies have been at odds in other areas since the big pitcher came here from Milwaukee in a trade two years ago.

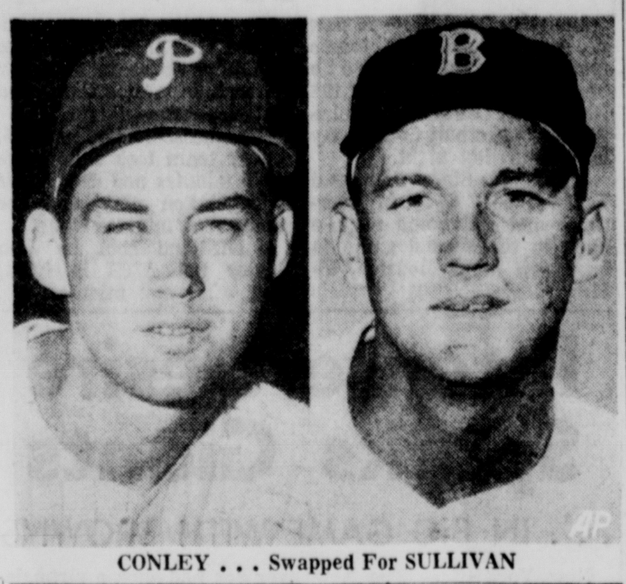

Because of his basketball playing, Conley reports a month late for spring training missing about 20 games at the start of the season. The Phillies hoped he would give up basketball and concentrate on baseball.

Conley won 12 and lost 7 in 1959, and last year compiled an 8-14 mark with the last place Phillies.

Sullivan, who broke into the majors with the Red Sox in 1953, split even his first year and had a winning record every year until 1959. His best years were 1955 and 1956 when he won 18 and 14 games. Each is 30-years old.

In another baseball development, the Milwaukee Braves announced signing of Ken Silvestri as a coach for their Louisville farm team. Silvestri, 44, a catcher during his playing days coached with the Phillies the past two seasons.

BRAVES GET McMILLAN FROM REDS

Milwaukee (AP) — A 3-club deal involving 3 front line pitchers and two infielders was completed Thursday night by the Milwaukee Braves, Cincinnati Reds and Chicago White Sox.

The Braves traded pitchers Juan Pizarro and Joe Jay to the Cincinnati Reds for infielder Roy McMillan and a minor league player to be named later.

The Reds kept Jay and ticketed Pizarro and Cal McLish for the White Sox in exchange for 3rd baseman Gene Freese.

"We feel the White Sox lost the pennant last season mainly because of pitching," said President Bill Veeck in Chicago. "This move was calculated to improve that department."

General Manager John McHale of the Braves, after negotiating by telephone with the Reds' General Manager, Bill DeWitt, said he thought the deal would give the Braves the best infield in the National League with Ed Matthews at 3rd, McMillan at short, Frank Bolling at second and Joe Adcock at first.

"The young pitchers—in addition to Warren Spahn, Lew Burdette and Bob Buhl—will have to come through for us," McHale said. "We are building to win the pennant in 1961."

The Braves were the 1957 world champions. They won the National League pennant in 1958, lost the pennant in a playoff to the Los Angeles Dodgers in 1959 and finished second behind Pittsburgh last season.

Lefty Pizarro, who will be 24 in February, had a 6-7 record for the Braves last season and an earned run average of 4.54. Jay, a 25-year-old rightander, had 9-8 and a 3.29.

CREIGHTON HITS DENVER

Omaha (AP) — Chuck Officer hit 10 of 20 shots from the floor Thursday night to pace Creighton to a 77-71 basketball victory over Denver University.

He added 5 free throws for 25 points. Officer got good help from Herb Millard who had 6 fielders and made all 8 of his free throw attempts.

Denver was led by Tim Vezie and Bob Grinstead both with 6 field goals.

Ex-Cager Named

Topeka, Kan. (UPI) — Gov. George Docking appointed Frank Groves, former Kansas State University basketball star and now an Arkansas City bulk oil distributor, to the state board of regents.

Groves succeeds Claude C. Bradney of Columbus, who, at the time the appointment was announced, was participating in the regents' budget hearing. Bradney's term expires Dec. 31.

Tennessee A&I Heads Ratings

. . . FOR SMALL COLLEGES

New York (UPI) — Tennessee State A&I and Evansville, which have won the national small college basketball championship during the last two seasons, were ranked 1-2 in the first weekly ratings of the United Press International Board of Coaches.

Tennessee State, which was ranked tops two years ago and placed 2nd to Evansville last season, was this week's small college leader with 16 of the 36 first-place votes cast and a total of 277 points. Evansville was the No. 1 choice of 6 coaches and had 224 points.

Ranked behind them in order among the top 10 teams were: Wittenburg (Ohio), Hofstra (N.Y.), Southwest Texas, Kentucky Wesleyan, Mississippi Southern, Los Angeles State, Grambling (La.) and Wheaton (Ill.)

Oddly, Evansville received the No. 2 ranking despite a record of only one victory in its first 5 games. This was due to an ambitious schedule in which the Purple Eagles from Indiana were beaten by such major college giants as Notre Dame, Iowa and Utah.

Evansville, which has lost 3 starters from the team which won the N.C.A.A. small college tournament for the last two seasons, was picked before the start of this season as the team most likely to win the national title. Tennessee A&I was voted No. 2 in the coaches' pre-season forecast.

Tennessee A&I, a Negro college in Nashville, lost its season-opener to Jackson (Miss.) State and then swept the next 5. The Tigers, coached by Harold Hunter, have 3 starters from last season's national runnersup, plus a 7-foot newcomer at center.

Besides Tennessee State and Evansville, the teams which received more than one first-place vote this week were 3rd-ranked Wittenburg and 7th-ranked Mississippi Southern (3 each); an 11th-ranked Prairie View A&M of Texas (2).

Six schools each was the No. 1 choice of one coach. They were: 6th-ranked Kentucky Wesleyan, 9th-ranked Grambling, Southwest Louisiana (tied for 16th), and Jackson (Miss.) State and the University of California at Santa Barbara.

Mississippi Southern, which had a 4-0 record through games played last Saturday night, now boasts a 19-game winning streak dating back to last season.

Wichita Blasts Washington State

Wichita, Kan. (AP) — The Wichita Shockers laid down a balanced attack in beating the Washington State Cougars 83-64 for their 5th basketball victory in 6 games Thursday night.

Veteran John Gales paced the Shockers with 20 points. A total of 12 Shockers figured in the scoring.

Is 'Soft Living' Hurting Sport?

By Steve Snider

New York (UPI) — America's sports leaders are deeply concerned about the effects of "soft living" on Uncle Sam's athletes.

Reverses in the 1960 Olympics games and in the Davis Cup inter-zone final brought blasts from Olympic official Avery Brundage and tennis executive George Barnes.

Golf is getting soft, too, according to the head of the U.S. Golf Association's rules committee.

"There are many manifestations," said Richard S. Tufts of the USGA. "One is the use of carts by so many of those quite able to walk two rounds a day."

Tufts also fears the rules of golf may be getting too soft what with the elimination of the stymie, legalizing of repairing ball marks on the greens and the insistence on playing "winter rules" when course conditions are only slightly short of perfection.

Whether "soft living" actually reduced the physical capacity of American athletes is debatable but it may be recalled that the best conditioned, most dedicated American Olympians — the swimmers — had the greatest success of any U.S. group at Rome last summer.

The swimmers, both men and women, adopted a new motto after being whacked severely by the Australians in the 1956 Olympics at Melbourne.

"Swim 'til it hurts" was their credo—and it paid off in 6 gold medals for men, 5 for women.

Yet, even that group had its unhappy surprises, notably in the women's dives where Germany's Ingrid Kramer shattered a long-time American monopoly by sweeping both the springboard and platform events.

Ingrid's victories point up the fact that athletes the world-over rapidly are catching up with the U.S., even in American specialties. That's another key factor in America's reversals in international competition ranging from the Olympic sports through tennis and golf.

Boxing is another example. The sport is booming abroad and lagging here for a variety of reasons. American fighters, right up to heavyweight champ Floyd Patterson and light heavy king Archie Moore have taken their lumps from foreigners.

But amateurs generally regard athletics as a sideline, not a future career, and they have to keep one eye on business training while competing in world-wide events.

Australian tennis officials can pick up a prospect practically in the cradle and stay with him until he wins at Wimbledon. Americans have school, college and military service to contend with while trying to compete on an even footing.

But as Aussie pro Rex Hartwig noted awhile back, "Wait 'til our kids are able to buy their own cars like yours do. They'll be on the highways not on the tennis courts."

We're not the only people concerned with soft living.

Ohio State Gaining In Dunkel List

Lincoln Star Special

Ormond Beach, Fla. — National champion Ohio State is closing in on St. Bonaventure for the top spot in the Dunkel Power Index ratings.

The Bonnies held a 12 point lead a week ago, but now lead by only 2.1. St. Bonaventure is rated at 90.7, Ohio State 88.6. Memphis State is 3rd with 86.3.

Six Big 8 Conference teams are listed in the top 80, with Kansas the leader in 10th spot on 75.7. Colorado is 12th (74.8).

Benkelman Gets Win Days Later

Benkelman has finally won a 43-42 decision over Grant, in overtime plus several days.

The game was played last Friday, with Grant originally being declared the winner, 44-43, in overtime.

But a ruling from Nebraska School Activities Assn. secretary-treasurer C. C. Thompson has reversed the outcome. The ruling concerned two free throws scored by Grant after the final buzzer.

After the free throws had been made, the timer informed officials that the game had officially ended before the foul was committed.

Tigers Forced Indoors Again

Columbia, Mo. (AP) — The Missouri football team, prepping for its Jan. 2 game in the Orange Bowl with Navy, worked indoors again Thursday.

Coach Dan Devine said the weather may make it necessary to stay inside today, too. He expressed concern about the lack of outdoor practice.

College Football Attendance Continues Rise, Tops 20 Million

New York (UPI) — College football attendance, aided by favorable weather and a sharp rise in the Rocky Mountain area, soared over the 20-million mark for the first time this year.

A total of 20,403,409 persons viewed games this season, according to a survey of 620 colleges conducted by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau. This represented a 4.02 per cent increase over 1959 and topped the previous high of 19,651,995 set in 1949.

Records also were set this year in average attendance, 7,523 per game, and in season average, 32,909 per home schedule.

It was the 7th consecutive season that attendance at college games increased over the previous year. Over the last 5 years, the attendance has jumped 18 per cent.

College officials reported that only 13.6 per cent of their games were played in "unfavorable weather" this year compared to 41.6 per cent in 1959.

Five of the 7 geographical sections of the country showed increases in 1960, topped by a 26.38 per cent rise in the Rockies. Attendance was up 11.62 per cent in the Midlands, 7.32 per cent in the East, 5.46 per cent in the South, and 1.98 per cent in the Midwest.

Ohio State was the individual leader for the 3rd straight year and the 6th time in 8 seasons. The Buckeyes attracted 413,583 spectators to their 5 home games—an average of 82,717 per game. Michigan State was second in the nation with a 68,592 average.

Other sectional leaders were Navy and Pittsburgh in the East, Louisiana State, Tulane and Miami in the South, Oklahoma and Colorado in the Midlands, Rice and Texas in the Southwest, New Mexico and Utah in the Rockies, and Washington and California in the Far West.

Big Ten teams averaged 55,275 per game but even so were down 1.85 per cent from 1959. Average Big Eight Conference was up 24.52 per cent.

Ethiopia Coup May Bode Trouble For United States

By William L. Ryan
Associated Press
News Analyst

It is still too early to assess with certainty the factors behind the coup in Ethiopia, but it would be no surprise if the developments have unhappy consequences eventually for the United States.

There is a distinct possibility that entrenchment of the new regime under Ras Imeru as prime minister will mean more neutralism of the brand espoused by Gamal Abdel Nasser and his United Arab Republic.

That would mean adding a country with an area bigger than that of Texas and Mexico combined to the so-called neutralist grouping whose leaders seldom find any merit in U.S. policies. And the development would please the Soviet Communists.

Emperor Haile Selassie long has been a close friend of the United States, but in recent months he has been under pressure at home and from other African leaders to cast his lot with neutralists.

Cairo Pressure On

For a long time, Cairo has been exerting this sort of pressure. The Egyptians have good reason for wanting to nail down their influence. The Nile River's waters mean life or death for Egypt's economy. The Blue Nile, one of the two main branches, rises in Ethiopia.

When I was in Ethiopia 7 years ago, Soviet Communists were there in strength, giving the impression that they looked upon their installations as a sort of headquarters for east Africa. Ever since World War II ended, the Soviet Communists have been keeping an interested eye on this strategic area commanding the approaches to the Indian Ocean, the Gulf of Aden and the Red Sea.

It was easy to see how much effort the Russians were investing in attempts to woo Ethiopia's few educated young men. The Communists directed a flood of propganda at them by means of an organization for "cultural contacts" with headquarters in Addis Ababa. Many a young Ethiopian learned to speak Russian in classes operated by this organization.

A hospital in Addis Ababa had been established and was directed and staffed solely by Russians. It was Ethiopia's best, and many a young man was beholden to the Russians for treatment there.

Young Men Resent

Friendly with the United States, Emperor Haile Selassie made English one of the two official languages, with the native Amharic. But among the young men of Ethiopia, particularly in recent years, there have been increasing signs of resentment against the West, seeming to stem from the West's consistent support of the emperor's absolute, autocratic rule.

Blame for the backwardness of the country was placed upon the emperor himself, and his strict prohibitions against outside political ideas. For example, Ethiopia annexed neighboring Eritrea after the war, but that country had been far ahead of Ethiopia in political and social development. When I was there, it was against the emperor's rules to import into Ethiopia proper any copies of Eritrea's constitution.

Ethiopia is a potentially rich country. Its lofty capital is about 7,000 feet above sea level in the heart of a rugged land of towering mountains and fertile soil.

Mail Load Shows Sharp Increase

IT'S HER LAST CHRISTMAS

Annabelle Wilson, in a Charleston, S.C. hospital, fondles a doll given her by friends. The little girl lost her left leg Saturday, and, though she doesn't know it, has less than a year to live. She has cancer. Annabelle had asked for a bike this Christmas, but now she won't be able to use it. She wants a record player instead.

Sheetz Goes On Stand In Ferina Trial

Kansas City (UPI)—Kenneth Bruce Sheetz testified Thursday that Felix Ferina and Anthony Cardarella were the two men who shot him June 20. The testimony was at the circuit court trial of Ferina who is charged with assault with intent to kill.

Sheetz said he was shot 4 times as he walked onto the front porch of his Kansas City home. The men, he said, were waiting inside the house.

Sheetz testified he was an ex-convict, that he had pleaded guilty to possession of narcotics and was awaiting sentence. He said he aided federal narcotics agents to buy dope from Anthony J. Biase of Omaha from September, 1959, to March, 1960.

Police Continue To Search For Alleged Rapist

Police are still searching for a youth about 18 to 21 years of age in connection with the alleged rape of a 14-year-old girl.

The girl told police that she accepted a ride with the youth about 6:30 p.m. Tuesday. She said they drove to a county road north of Lincoln and back into Lincoln, then back to the county road again with another girl along, then back to Lincoln where the other girl was dropped off. They then reportedly went to the county road for a third time and on this occasion she said the boy raped her.

She admitted drinking pop spiked with whisky which the boy gave her. After the last trip into the country the boy took her back into town and dropped her off about 11 p.m.

Smokey, The Bear Forgives Eric

Washington (UPI) — Nine-year-old Eric Riggenbach has won the forgiveness of Smokey Bear.

Smokey returned Eric's forest Ranger badge Thursday and the boy said it was "like getting a million dollars for Christmas — only better."

Last September, the Williamsburg, Iowa, youngster turned in his Ranger badge because he thought he didn't deserve it. He had started a fire that almost got out of control.

Eric, the first child ever to resign like that, told about it in a letter to Smokey Bear. Smokey is the symbol of fire prevention and he is very serious about fires. He put Eric on probation.

Smokey's masters — the men and women of the U.S. Forest Service—told Eric his badge would be returned in 3 months if he didn't play with matches and was careful about fires.

Becomes Preventer

Eric made up for his mistake. Instead of starting fires, he became a real fire preventer. He made a fire prevention speech at his school. He also appeared on a radio station to tell his story. He tried every way he knew to help prevent fires.

After 3 months Eric wrote Smokey a letter asking if he could join the forest rangers again. Eric said:

"Dear Smokey Bear:

"I haven't played with matches or fire. In fire-prevention week, I made a speech on fire prevention in school. I was on the radio. Everyone in school heard it. Most of them on the bus.

"A news reporter called me. He was from New York. He asked why I sent back my badge. I said I was not worthy of the belonging.

"In my room I have a bear. I named it Smokey. I want the badge back. I will carry if everywhere.

"Yours truly, Eric Riggenbach."

Eric's mother, Mrs. J. E. Riggenbach, also sent a letter to Smokey, certifying her son's activities.

"He has been careful, and very good since he turned in his badge," Mrs. Riggenbach wrote. "I feel he would make a good junior ranger now — one you would be proud of."

The forest service agreed with Eric's mother. Smokey's artist, Rudy Wendilin, made a special drawing of the bear, with the caption, "Welcome Back, Eric."

At his home, Eric was real happy that his badge was being sent back.

"I'm going to carry it everywhere I go," he said. "It sure means a lot to me."

Parker Fund Total Nears $2,000 Mark

Nearly $2,000 has been contributed to the Darrel Parker Fund to date, according to Mrs. Lora H. Stewart of Omaha, fund treasurer.

The fund is for legal aid and other expense in efforts to secure a new trial or pardon for Darrel Parker, now serving a life sentence at the Nebraska Penitentiary.

The former Lincoln city forester was convicted of murder in the Dec. 14, 1955, death of his wife, Nancy, but he has maintained he is innocent of the strangulation-slaying.

Since his conviction, continuing defense efforts have turned up possible new evidence in the 5-year-old case.

Mrs. Stewart said contributions have been received from 18 states and as far east as Massachusetts and west as California.

Fund advisers have estimated that approximately $3,000 will be needed for planned legal efforts in behalf of Parker.

Warren Schremp, an Omaha attorney and former assistant U.S. district attorney, has been retained by Parker's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Parker of Henderson, Ia., in the case.

He Learns While He Earns

HOW TO MAKE A BOY GROW FASTER!

You can see a boy's physical growth. His arms grow out of his sleeves and his feet out of his trouser legs. But it is a bit more difficult to observe what goes on inside his mind. The home, the church, and the school naturally contribute much to his mental development. But there is more that can be done—by providing a constructive activity for his spare time.

Thousands of boys benefit greatly from newspaperboy training. In building up a business of their own, these lads develop personality traits and establish mental attitudes which do much to insure success in later life. They learn many things which cannot be obtained from books.

Perhaps YOUR BOY will grow faster with a newspaper business of his own. Encourage him today to investigate this worthwhile opportunity.

Stock Mart Ends Mixed

Gains and losses of fractions to about a point were the general rule among key stocks. A wide assortment of selected issues, some far down from their 1960 highs, attracted buyers and gained 1 or 2 points.

Steel shares were up in early trading. As the session wore on, the steels turned narrowly mixed. Nonferrous metals, drugs and aircrafts presented the same pattern. Autos, oils and chemicals declined.

Eight of the 15 most active stocks advanced and seven declined.

Bond volume dipped to $6.3 million par value from $7.28 million Wednesday.

GRAIN TRADE AT STANDSTILL

Chicago (AP)—Trade in grain futures was virtually at a standstill most of the time Thursday but old crop wheat futures shifted over a broad range on an early active demand and a late flurry of selling.

Oats moved up major fractions and rye eased about a cent on late dealings while corn and soybeans finished with little change.

At the close, wheat was ⅛-½ cent a bushel lower, December $2.06¼; corn unchanged to ¼ higher, December $1.07⅜; oats ¼-¾ higher, December 59⅜; rye ¾-1 cent lower, December $1.08¾; soybeans unchanged to ¼ lower, January $2.18⅜-½.

Kennedy Edges Nixon By Only 111,957 Votes

... FINAL OFFICIAL TABULATIONS

By D. Harold Oliver

Washington (AP) — In the closest presidential race in 76 years, Democrat John F. Kennedy scored a popular vote plurality of on ly 112,801 over Republican Richard M. Nixon in final official tabulations today.

Minor parties polled 386,253.

Unless t h e unexpected happens and some Kennedy-pledged Southern electors defect when the 537 electors cast their votes Monday, Kennedy will have 300 electoral votes in 22 states. Nixon will have 223 in 27 states, and 14 unpledged electors in Alabama and Mississippi will go to Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va. At least 269 is required to elect.

Kennedy	34,221,485
Nixon	34,108,684
Others	502,501

Kennedy scored his biggest percentage in Rhode Island with 63.6. Nixon's 62.1 of the total vote in Nebraska was his largest.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The above revised figures are on the basis of state changes in Missouri, South Dakota and Utah, and are not reflected in the table below.)

The City Council has created 11 new paving districts and ordered preparation of an ordinance to create a 12th.

Regional Plan On Housing Is Explained

The "Housing" and "Transportation" sections of the preliminary report of the Lincoln-Lancaster County Regional Plan were outlined Thursday by Planning Director Douglas Brogden at the second of 4 forums on the plan sponsored by the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce.

He explained how the land would be divided into one-square mile neighborhoods for new residential areas. The street system would be broken so that through-traffic would be forced to border the neighborhoods, he said.

The plan also provides for the location of a centrally located elementary school in each neighborhood so that no child would be more than one-half mile from school and none would have to cross any arterial streets.

He briefly outlined the air routes by-passing the residential areas of the city as set forth in the plan.

The next forum, scheduled for Jan. 5, will be on "Utilities." The Chamber has scheduled the forums on the Thursday preceeding the Wednesday on which the Planning Commission holds a public hearing on a specific section of the Regional Plan.

'Geriatric Jitneys' Aim To Brighten Holidays Of Elderly

Did you ever see a "Geriatric Jitney?" Well, you might during the two Sundays of this holiday season, Christmas and New Year's Day.

The Lancaster County Association of Mental Health is sponsoring a Christmas project labeled "Geriatric Jitneys," in which members of the association take those in nursing homes to church on either Christmas or New Year's Day.

"In this way, we hope to bring a little more sunshine into the lives of these elderly people, especially at this wonderful time of year," explained Mrs. L. A. Enersen.

In sponsoring this program, the association is cooperating with the United Church Women of Lincoln, who have been visiting nursing homes throughout the year.

"This project is not for the association members and church women alone. Anyone in Lincoln who has an hour or two to spend is encouraged to contact either us or a nursing home and take these folks for a ride during the Christmas season," said Mrs. Enersen.

To avoid calling a nursing home at random, those wanting to take an elderly person out can do so by calling Miss Gwen Mead, chairman of the project, at IN 6-7318.

"The nursing homes are all participating wonderfully," Mrs. Enersen concluded, "and some of them, such as Tabitha Home, are arranging to be called directly by ayone desiring to take someone out to church or to see the Christmas decorations in the city."

Vehicle Homicide Jury Will Continue Deliberation Friday

The jury in the James H. Birchum motor vehicle homicide case deliberated until 9 p.m. Thursday but failed to reach a verdict.

Lancaster District Judge John Polk allowed the 9 men and 3 women jurors to separate for the night. They will resume their deliberations at 9 a.m. Friday.

Birchum, 35, of Norman, Okla., faces a maximum penalty of 10 years in prison if convicted. He could also be fined up to $500, or could receive probation.

Birchum was charged in the Aug. 20 death of 7-week-old Jimmy Platt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bradley J. Platt of 1712 No. 29th. Chief Dep. County Atty. Paul Douglas claimed Birchum was under the influence of liquor when Birchum's car swerved onto the wrong side of the highway at 63rd and Cornhusker and struck headon a car driven by Bradley Platt.

"If the defendant would of been completely sober," he told the jury in his closing statement, "this accident wouldn't have happened."

Defense Atty. John McArthur contended the cause of the accident was a cement truck which suddenly turned onto the highway in front of Birchum. McArthur said when Birchum jammed on his brakes the brakes pulled his car into the path of the Platt car.

Blood Shows Alcohol

Evidence at the trial, which began Monday, included a blood specimen taken from Birchum following the accident. The specimen contained 0.25% alcohol, and the judge instructed the jury that state law provides 0.15% is sufficient to create a presumption that a person is under the influence of liquor.

Birchum admitted drinking whisky the day of the accident, but said "I was as sober as anybody" when the mishap occurred.

Farm Manufacturing Company Is Planned

They are Robert Perkin Paul Diefenbach and Dick Wiessner, all of Lexington, and Carl Smith of Grand Island. They have not announced what type of equipment they plan to make and sell.

Benton Suggests Rules For Holiday Season Fire Safety

Far be it from the fire department to throw cold water on the Christmas spirit, but they will have to do just that unless the simple rules of safety are followed this season.

Lincoln Fire Chief Roscoe Benton, wishing every Lincolnite a merry holiday season, adds a few rules on fire prevention to the greeting.

Spray Suggested

A good rule for householders, and a requirement for all public gathering places, schools, churches, theaters, etc., is "flame-proofing" of all Christmss trees before they are decorated.

A solution of 9 ounces of borax, and 4 ounces of boric acid in one gallon of water makes a spray which, when applied to fir trees, keeps them from bursting into blaze in a flash. The trees, he warns, will still burn, but not in a sudden flash.

Metallic trees, coming into popularity, get a vote of confidence from Chief Benton, IF the users do not use Christmas tree lights on them. The light cords might produce shorts which would make the entire metallic tree a death hazard from electrical shock, he said.

He recommends the use of floodlights which are placed on the floor near the tree and cause it to twinkle just as brightly as individually-hung lights would.

An everpresent fire hazard at the Christmas season is the use of frayed lighting cords and the overloading of outlets. It is much cheaper to buy new cords every two or 3 years when they begin to wear, than to pay the cost of a Christmas fire.

All Christmas decorations should be made safe with the use of flame-proof materials, Benton suggests. Although the cost of flame-proof materials may be a few cents more, the added safety is worth the expense.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Sealed proposals for the furnishing of all materials and labor for the General Contract, including plumbing and electric work for a concession stand at Pioneer Park, Lincoln, Nebraska, will be received by the City until 10:00 a.m., December 28, 1960, at which time the proposals will be opened and read aloud.

All bids shall be made on the printed Proposal Form to be made a part of the proposed contract documents.

The acceptable bidder shall furnish a combination Performance and Payment Bond in the amount of 100% of the Contract amount upon the award of the Construction Contract.

The Owner reserves the right to reject any or all Proposals, and to waive any informality in any Proposal.

Plans and specifications may be inspected at the office of the Architects, Clark & Enersen, 1414 Sharp Building, Lincoln, Nebraska, and also the Park Department, 1300 South 27th Street, Lincoln, Nebraska.

Each proposal must be accompanied by a certified check for 5 per cent of the amount of the bid, as a guarantee of good faith, drawn on a Nebraska bank, and made payable to the order of Frank J. Miller, City Treasurer, which will be retained by and forfeited to the City of Lincoln as liquidated damages if such proposal is accepted and the contract is awarded and the bidder or bidders fail to enter into a contract in the form prescribed, with a satisfactory surety bond, within ten (10) days after such award is made. The check will be returned to the successful bidder after the contract and bond are executed and approved, and to each unsuccessful bidder when the award is made.

Each proposal must be signed in ink by the bidder with his full name and with his business address or place of residence. In the case of a firm, the name and residence of each member must be inserted, and in case the proposal is submitted by, or in behalf of a corporation, it must be signed in the name of such corporation by a duly authorized official who shall affix the corporate seal of such corporation.

No bidder may submit more than one proposal. Two proposals under different names will not be received from one firm or association.

Harold W. Springer, City Clerk.

Antelope Dam Facilities Explained

By Don Walton

A vast array of recreational facilities was envisioned Thursday for the Antelope Creek Dam southeast of Lincoln.

The plans were summarized at an informational meeting on the project called by Mayor Pat Boyles, and attended by representatives of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers.

Lincoln architect L. A. Enersen said the reservoir area will be developed for boating, fishing and as a park.

Passive Canoeing

One section, he noted, may be limited to "more passive" recreation, such as canoeing.

Picnic shelters, parking areas and forested slopes will also be developed. An area is to be set aside for outdoor games, such as softball.

Access roads will provide easy entrance to the area, Enersen said.

To Get 194 Acres

The city will acquire about 194 acres, including 104 on which the government needs flood easements.

Corps of Engineers officials noted that $250,000 is available for land acquisition and construction.

The Antelope Dam is one of 12 to be constructed in the Salt-Wahoo Watershed District.

Engineers explained requirements with regard to the land that must be purchased, flowage easements and procedure.

William Gold II, representing the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce, summarized the chamber's all-out support for the project.

Very Worst

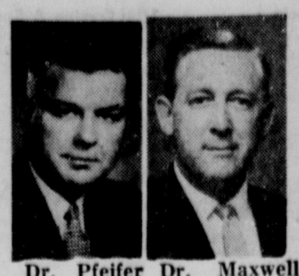

Paris (AP) — The Prix Jules, awarded for the first time this year for the worst book by a woman, went to Annabel, wife of painter Bernard Buffet. The jury of male writers, film directors, journalists and advertising types voted 15-1 for her "L'Amour Quotidien" (Daily Love).

Maxwell Set As Chief Of Bryan Staff

Dr. Paul J. Maxwell has been elected by Bryan Memorial Hospital medical staff members to serve as their chief-of-staff-elect, 1961-63.

Also at the Christmas dinner meeting, officers were named to serve with Dr. L. F. Pfeifer, who has been chief-of-staff-elect for the past two years and will now become active chief of staff for a two-year term beginning Jan. 1, 1961. They are:

Dr. Keay Hachiya, secretary; Dr. M. P. Brolsma, treasurer; Dr. J. H. Rickman, surgery dept. chairman; Dr. B. E Taylor, medicine; Dr. L. E. Finney, general practice; Dr. W. J. Jarvis, urology; Dr. Hachiya, anesthesia; Dr. Maurice D. Frazer, radiology; Dr. M. A. Wood, eye, ear, nose and throat; Dr. Paul Goetowski, orthopedics;

Dr. Pfeifer Dr. Maxwell

Dr. W. W. Webster, oral surgery; Dr. K. T. McGinnis, obstetrics and gynecology; Dr. G. E. Stafford, pediatrics, and Dr. H. B. Miller pathology.

Not In Bavaria

Bamberg, Germany (AP) — A court has ruled here in beer-loving Bavaria that only beer may be marketed in beer bottles. The infringement case involved bottling of a non-alcoholic, nourishing malt beverage of a type prescribed for nursing mothers.

State Liquor Tax Revenue Near Record

Nebraska tax revenue from alcoholic beverages was the second-highest in history in 1959-60, topped only by the post-war celebration period of 1945-46, the State Liquor Commission reported Thursday.

The commission, in its annual report, said the past 12 months marked the third time in history that liquor, wine and beer revenue has gone over the $3 million mark. The last time was for 1957-58, when the total hit $3,009,704.

Consumption this year was $25,587,440 gallons. Beer was by far the most popular among the alcoholic beverages, totaling 23,460,765 gallons. Fortified wines accounted for 438,679 gallons, and light wines for 160,580 gallons.

Activities of the enforcement division included 337 arrests of minors with convictions totaling 332. Procurers of alcoholic beverages for minors were also arrested, 51, with 50 of them being convicted.

The commission also issued 3,623 licenses, including renewals and replacements. Of Of these, beer licenses totaled 1,561, class C or liquor-by-the-drink licenses totaled 878, and package liquor licenses totaled 792.

Strauss Gets Bldg. Permits

The Strauss Const. Co. has taken out building permits for the 5-unit apartment building to be constructed near Cotner and Vine Streets, according to the city building inspector's office.

The estimated cost on the permit for each building, which will house 18 apartments, was $114,085.

Construction has already begun on the triangular plot of land, bordered by Cotner Blvd. on the southeast, Vine on the north and 60th on the west, according to James Strauss.
